

The only newspaper in Washington with the Associated Press news every morning in the year.

The Washington Post.

The Weather—Generally fair today and tomorrow; little change in temperature. Temperature yesterday—Highest, 86; lowest, 63. Weather details on page 6.

NO. 19,023.

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER POSTOFFICE WASHINGTON, D. C.

WASHINGTON: MONDAY, JULY 16, 1928.

COPYRIGHT, 1928, BY THE WASHINGTON POST CO.

TWO CENTS.

NOBILE IS PRISONER BY ITALY'S ORDERS. STOCKHOLM HEARS

Held on Base Ship Until He Clears Mystery of Arctic Tragedy.

DR. MALMGREN LEFT ALIVE IN ICE GRAVE

Rescue Ship Near Russian Flier—Attacks on Italian Leader Grow Bitter.

Stockholm, July 15 (A.P.).—The newspaper Dagbladet prints a report, the source of which is not given, saying that Gen. Umberto Nobile "is, in fact, the Italian government's prisoner, as he is forbidden to leave the base ship Citta di Milano before he has given the world a clear account of the Italia catastrophe and later events."

Talk of a juridical investigation of the disaster continued in the press today. It is admitted that such an investigation would be hard to arrange, as the jurisdiction of any country could only be vaguely defined. With regard to the death of Dr. Finn Malmgren, leader of the Italia's "walking party," who was left on the ice by his companions, Capt. Alberto Mariani and Capt. Filippo Zappi, it is pointed out that it probably occurred in a sort of "no man's land." Thus, no country would have a clearly defined right to command a juridical inquiry.

The Stockholm Dagbladet received a report this morning that the Russian ice-breaker Malignin had rescued Capt. Roald Amundsen and two others of the French seaplane at Latham, Southwest King Charles Land. The newspaper, however, could not confirm the report.

Hundreds of messages of condolence on the death of Dr. Malmgren have been received by Mrs. Malmgren, the doctor's mother, and the Swedish government. The Italian Minister, Prince Colonna, said in a letter to Mrs. Malmgren:

"In my heart of hearts I am deeply affected at the tragic fate of your heroic son. His scientific contributions will be highly prized and his memory will be kept in bright remembrance. All Italians will think of your wounded mother's heart. I express my deepest sorrow."

The Norwegian, Brazilian, Japanese and Czechoslovakian ministers also sent messages of condolence.

Ship Near Chukhovskoy. Rome, July 15 (A.P.).—The base ship Citta di Milano reported by radio today that at noon the Norwegian ice-breaker Braganza was within 3 miles of the camp of the aviator Chukhovskoy and was in wireless communication with the men there.

Chukhovskoy, with four companions, was marooned on the ice near Cape Platen when his plane was forced down and damaged in landing.

The Vista di Milano also reported that the condition of Alberto Mariani, who with Capt. Filippo Zappi was rescued, half-starving, from the ice last week, showed slight improvement today. Capt. Zappi has almost recovered from his experiences. Capt. Mariani is suffering from a frozen foot.

Krasin Changes Route. Moscow, July 15 (A.P.).—The Russian ice-breaker Krasin left the scene of its most recent rescue of Italian survivors yesterday to pick up the aviator Chukhovskoy, stranded near Cape Platen with four companions when their airplane was damaged, says a report from Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Krasin expedition.

The report received in Stockholm that Capt. Roald Amundsen and Capt. Rene Guilbaud have been rescued by the Russian ice breaker Malignin was discredited in responsible quarters here today.

The relief committee still is receiving telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the world on the feat of the Krasin in rescuing the Viglior group and the "walking party" of Mariani and Zappi last week.

Tragedy of Dr. Malmgren. A graphic account of the tragedy that befell Dr. Finn Malmgren, noted Swedish meteorologist, including his burial alive in an icy grave, is given in a radiogram to Tass, Soviet news agency, from Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Russian relief expedition aboard the ice breaker Krasin. Capt. Mariani and Zappi, companions of the scientist, were rescued by the ship last week and are recuperating from their harrowing experiences.

The three men left the main group of Italia survivors to try to find help and wandered aimlessly about in an icebound world until Dr. Malmgren could go no further. According to Prof. Samoilovich's request for details as to how Malmgren died, Zappi said:

"In our march landward we suffered untold privations. For days we drifted on floating ice. Several miles southeast of Island Brok, Malmgren was unable to march on and told us to go ahead and take all the provisions. Before leaving Malmgren asked us to dig a grave in the ice and he lay down. Quietly he stretched out his hand, bidding us adieu and handing his compass, requesting us to give it to his mother."

"We plodded on slowly and in 24 hours were only 100 meters from Malmgren. We saw Malmgren raise his Index to Today's Issue.

- Pages.
- 1—Plane Propeller Hits Woman. Nobile Reported Prisoner. Italy Accepts Kellogg Pact. Hoover Is Guest of Dawes. O. D. Young May Be Governor. Henry R. Rathbone Dead. Girl Given Sight at Age of 20. Mystery "Envoy" If Held. Mgr. Ryan Head of C. U.
 - 2—30 Hurt in Auto Accidents. Better Jitney Service Asked.
 - 3—Italia Rescue Is Described. Coolidge Awaits Hoover Visit.
 - 4—Editorial.
 - 5—Society.
 - 6—Philippine Legislature Opens. Gangster Shot, Kills Fox.
 - 7—Industries Show Gain in June. Financial News.
 - 8—Magazine Features.
 - 9, 10, 11—Sports.
 - 12—The Post's Comics. Radio News and Program. Classified Advertising. Daily Legal Record.
 - 13—To Speed Building Program. Citizen Soldiers at Church. Old Grudges Mar Peace Hope. At the Local Theaters.

HENRY R. RATHBONE DIES IN HOSPITAL AT CHICAGO

Expires After an Operation, While in Conversation With an Interne.

WAS DISTRICT'S FRIEND

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—Representative Henry R. Rathbone, of Kenilworth, Ill., representative at large since 1922, died in Presbyterian Hospital today following an operation.

Mr. Rathbone, who was a candidate for reelection, had been ill two years, and an operation finally was deemed necessary. Apparently he was recovering satisfactorily and was able to talk to hospital attaches. While he was talking to an interne he complained of difficulty in breathing, and died a moment later.

Richard Yates, Rathbone's colleague in the House, was deferred for re-election in the April primary by Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormack. A nominee to take Mr. Rathbone's place on the November ticket will have to be chosen by the Republican State central committee, probably at a special meeting. Yates is regarded as a possible choice.

Parents at Lincoln Tragedy.

Henry Riggs Rathbone often referred to himself as "Washington's only representative in Congress." He was the only member of that body who could claim the National Capital as a birthplace. He was born here February 12, 1870, the son of Henry Reed Rathbone and Clara Harris Rathbone. His grandfather, Ira Harris, was a United States senator from New York.

Rathbone's father and mother were in the box at the old Ford Theater when President Lincoln the night the latter was assassinated. The stories his parents told him about this tragedy had a profound influence on young Rathbone, and in later years he fairly worshiped the memory of the Emancipator.

So much did he think and talk about Lincoln that Rathbone actually acquired some of his characteristics. He was tall and lean-faced, and he had a Lincoln stoop in his carriage. Those

CONTINUED ON PAGE 2, COLUMN 4.

Rich Copper Strike Is Made by Woman

The Pas, Manitoba, July 15 (A.P.).—For the first time in the history of northern Manitoba, a woman has made a mineral discovery of major importance.

Miss Kathleen Rice, graduate of the University of Toronto, and well-known by pioneer prospectors in the northern mining field has made a rich strike, according to those who have examined the sample of copper pyrite brought from her claim.

"Blind Girl Given Sight; Amazed at Visual World"

Faces of Friends Not at All What She Imagined; Awaits First Sight of Mother She Has "Imagined" For Years.

Special to The Washington Post. Milwaukee, July 15.—Marcella Calkins, blind since birth, today looked out on a world of wonders following an operation which has given her her sight, and while she marveled at objects which she had been unable to imagine in her world of darkness, she awaited seeing her mother, whose image she has carried in her mind for 20 years since her birth.

"No one looks as I had expected them to look," Marcella explained, "and I'm afraid the picture I've carried of my mother all these years will be wrong." Since her seventh birthday Marcella has been a student at the Janesville, Wis., school for the blind. There she was taught the usual school subjects and, in addition, she learned sewing, cooking, piano playing and, what she regards as most important, she learned stenography. She once typed 130 words a minute, when school officials entered her in a State contest.

Her eyesight has been slowly coming to her for the past few weeks, following a sixth operation performed by Dr. Claude B. Beebe, completing the delicate work he began several years ago. Through the corner of one eye she had been able to distinguish between night and day, but now special lenses fitted to her eyes slowly are helping to develop her sight to normal.

Movies, airplanes, flowers, sunsets—these are the things Marcella says she has tried to vision, and her first sight of some of these objects showed that she was far afield in her conception of them.

"It is impossible to realize the beauty of a flower by touch," she said, "and the faces of my friends aren't at all as I expected they would be. I have carried the same picture of my mother in my mind as long as I can remember, and now I am afraid that she, too, will not be at all what I have imagined her to be."

Marcella's family live at Chetek, and as soon as she has recovered from her operation she is to see her mother and father for the first time. Then, she says, she is going to get a job. For ready she can type 130 words a minute, and feels amply fitted to start work at once.

FRANCE AND ITALY, IN NOTES, ACCEPT KELLOGG'S TREATY

Briand and Mussolini Agree to Changes in Preamble.

BRITAIN TO INDICATE ACQUIESCENCE SOON

Secretary Still Waits Replies From Japan, Poland and Other Nations.

(Associated Press.) Unqualified acceptance by Italy and France of Secretary Kellogg's treaty for the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy, the preamble of which was revised and resubmitted to fourteen principal nations on June 28, were made public last night by the State Department.

American Government officials, while refusing comment on the replies, indicated their gratification over the attitude of the two European governments toward the new pact. Germany already has accepted without reservation and unofficial information indicates Great Britain will present a favorable reply this week.

Premier Mussolini's acceptance for Italy was brief. Dated yesterday, it said:

"The royal government, which has attentively examined the last draft of a treaty for the elimination of war proposed by the United States, takes note of, and agrees with the interpretation of the said treaty, which the Government of the United States sets forth in the note of June 23, last, and on this premise declares that it is disposed to proceed to the signature thereof."

Text of Briand Note.

Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, in his note dated July 14, said: "It follows from the new preamble that the proposed treaty indeed aims at the perpetuation of the pacific and friendly relations under the contractual conditions in which they are today established between the interested nations; that it is essentially a question for the signatory powers of renouncing war as an instrument of their national policy, and also that the signatory powers, which hereafter might seek, by itself resorting to war, to promote its own national interests, should be denied the benefits of the treaty."

M. Briand said France was happy to declare that it is in accord with these

CONTINUED ON PAGE 14, COLUMN 4.

8 Killed, 7 Injured In Munich Collision

Munich, Germany, July 15 (A.P.).—Eight persons were killed and at least seven seriously injured when a train telescoped near here and the two end cars caught fire. The total number of casualties has not yet been determined.

Auto Driver Slugged By Man He Aided

Danville, Va., July 15.—Caswell County authorities have been unable to find a clue to the identity of a man who blackjacked F. W. Denny, Danville salesman, and left him unconscious in his car after Denny had stopped to pick the man up. The stranger signaled to Denny on the road near Yanceyville and the salesman, while knowing the perils of such a course, had sympathy for the man in the glaring heat. Denny was hit with a blackjack and suffered head scalp lacerations. He had less than $1 in change in his pockets, but this was taken.

Alabama Governor Pardons Couple Doomed to Chair When Girl Reappears.

Special to The Washington Post. Montgomery, Ala., July 15.—George Elder and Louise Butler, Lowndes County, who on April 26, were convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death, but whose supposed victim later reappeared alive and well, were pardoned today by Gov. Bibb Graves.

Mary Cecil Warren, 14, whom George Elder and Louise Butler were found guilty of murdering, is the niece of the Butler woman and had lived with her. It developed during the trial of the man and woman that the girl and her father had quarreled and that the girl after being severely beaten, disappeared.

Faced with the charge of killing the girl, the man and woman, it appears, not knowing whether the girl was dead or not and fearing that she might be dead, confessed to the killing. They were subsequently convicted and sentenced to death. One day several men on business in a neighboring county, saw Mary Cecil Warren. The board of pardons, in a report to the chief executive, recommended that both be pardoned.

Crash Kills Pilot And Woman in Plane

Tampa, Fla., July 15 (A.P.).—O. G. Stone, an airplane pilot of Lakeland, and Mrs. Victoria Mateo, of Tampa, a passenger, were killed near the Halderman-Elder Airport at Lakeland this afternoon when Stone's plane crashed from a height of nearly 2,500 feet.

Mrs. Mateo was riding in the rear seat without straps. She was hurled 75 feet away before the plane hit the ground. So terrific was the speed of the plane as it crashed earthward that both wings broke off about 100 feet up. Witnesses said Stone was giving Mrs. Mateo driving lessons. It is not known who was at the controls at the time.

"Mystery Envoy" of Egypt Taken by Federal Agents

Guest of New York and Other Cities—Negotiating Movie Contract When Arrested—Alleged to Have Left Long Trail of Bogus Checks.

Los Angeles, July 15 (A.P.).—The capture of the "international mystery man," who was welcomed as a guest of honor in New York city with special bands and welcoming committees when he arrived there in December, 1927, as the special envoy of the Egyptian government, was claimed today by Department of Justice agents following their arrest last night of Samuel S. Spiegel. The alleged Egyptian envoy was arrested on specific charges of impersonating Department of State representatives, and of issuing false checks and spurious credentials. He was held pending further instructions from Washington, whence came orders for his arrest, on the possibility of his being faced with deportation.

Spiegel, who is said to have operated under a score of aliases, arrived in San Francisco last month and was given an official welcome accompanied by bands, after having been feted in many New York, Connecticut and Illinois cities, through which the Federal agents said he had left a trail of bad checks, mostly drawn on a Cairo, Egypt, bank. All of the "foreign guest's" passports and credentials were believed to be false by Washington and local Federal officers.

The Federal agents reported, Spiegel asserted, that part of his duty was to learn something of the inside operations of the motion picture industry and that it was in Hollywood, they added, that he was "making his major financial killing." He was alleged to have been negotiating a $3,000 a week movie contract for a two-months' period when arrested, and officers said that he had left many bad checks in many of the large movie studios.

There also was an intimation that several prominent movie stars had been victimized to the extent of many thousands of dollars. An admission to his jailers that he realized he was in a "deuce of a fix" was the only comment that could be obtained from Spiegel, police said.

MGR. JAMES H. RYAN HEAD OF CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY

Pope Appoints Professor of Philosophy as Successor of Bishop Shanahan.

WAS BACKED BY FACULTY

Pope Pius XI has appointed the Right Rev. James Hugh Ryan as rector of the Catholic University of America, the foremost Catholic institution of learning in the Western Hemisphere. He will succeed Bishop Thomas J. Shanahan, who submitted his resignation last March after a record length of service as rector.

Mr. Ryan, who has for several years been associate professor of philosophy at the Catholic University, occupies a distinguished place in the fields of Catholic education and philosophy, and also is widely known as a mediaevalist and as a writer.

Appointment of Mr. Ryan was forecast exclusively in The Washington Post yesterday. Several other American Catholic educational leaders had been prominently mentioned for the rectorship, which is determined by the Pope after names have been submitted from this country. Mr. Ryan's selection, however, was received with much gratification by the faculty of the university.

The rectorship of the Catholic University is a unique position in this country. The university is an independent institution as far as diocesan authorities and orders of the Catholic clergy are concerned; several orders of priests are included in its faculty. It is in a complete sense the center of Catholic higher education in the United States, and in that respect stands alone in the country. Its higher theological courses are attended by priests of virtually every religious order from every diocese in the United States.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 2, COLUMN 8.

FINDING OF "MURDER" VICTIM FREES TWO

Alabama Governor Pardons Couple Doomed to Chair When Girl Reappears. Special to The Washington Post. Montgomery, Ala., July 15.—George Elder and Louise Butler, Lowndes County, who on April 26, were convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death, but whose supposed victim later reappeared alive and well, were pardoned today by Gov. Bibb Graves.

Mary Cecil Warren, 14, whom George Elder and Louise Butler were found guilty of murdering, is the niece of the Butler woman and had lived with her. It developed during the trial of the man and woman that the girl and her father had quarreled and that the girl after being severely beaten, disappeared.

Faced with the charge of killing the girl, the man and woman, it appears, not knowing whether the girl was dead or not and fearing that she might be dead, confessed to the killing. They were subsequently convicted and sentenced to death. One day several men on business in a neighboring county, saw Mary Cecil Warren. The board of pardons, in a report to the chief executive, recommended that both be pardoned.

Crash Kills Pilot And Woman in Plane

Tampa, Fla., July 15 (A.P.).—O. G. Stone, an airplane pilot of Lakeland, and Mrs. Victoria Mateo, of Tampa, a passenger, were killed near the Halderman-Elder Airport at Lakeland this afternoon when Stone's plane crashed from a height of nearly 2,500 feet.

Mrs. Mateo was riding in the rear seat without straps. She was hurled 75 feet away before the plane hit the ground. So terrific was the speed of the plane as it crashed earthward that both wings broke off about 100 feet up. Witnesses said Stone was giving Mrs. Mateo driving lessons. It is not known who was at the controls at the time.

Colombian, Who Left Here Yesterday, Lost, Hits Fair Grounds Fence.

Dillon, S. C., July 15 (A.P.).—Lieut. Camilo Daza, Colombian flier, en route from Bolling Field, Washington, to Bogotá, Colombia, by easy stages, landed at Dillon at 2:30 p. m. today.

Daza left Washington at 10 o'clock this morning for Pope Field, Fort Bragg, N. C., where he was due in about four hours. When no word was received of his landing late in the day fear was expressed for his safety.

Daza lost his way and came down the field at the Dillon Fair grounds. The wings of his Swiss plane were badly damaged when, in landing, he crashed into a fence around the field. The flier himself escaped injury. He planned to spend the night here, and after an examination of his plane, to determine whether he will continue his flight to Colombia or ship his plane to a suitable place for repairs.

Bus Plunges 50 Feet Down Hill, Killing 2

Pittsburgh, July 15 (A.P.).—Two persons were killed and fifteen injured when a large picnic bus plunged down a steep embankment at Wildwood Grove, near here, tonight. Many of the injured were rushed to hospitals here.

According to witnesses, the brakes refused to work as the bus was running down a steep hill. The machine swerved from the road and crashed down a 50-foot declivity.

Hughes and Seipel Confer Over Italy

Vienna, July 15 (A.P.).—Former Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes had a two-hour talk today with Chancellor Seipel, who discussed Austria's external problems, especially the difficult nature of her relations with Italy.

HOOVER IS CHEERED BY TRAIN CROWDS; VISITS WITH DAWES

Nominee Makes a Brief Talk From Platform at Fort Wayne.

G. O. P. VICTORY SEEN BY VICE PRESIDENT

Throngs at Union Station in Chicago Await Glimpse of Secretary.

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—Completing the first lap of his cross-continent trip to his old California home, Herbert Hoover spent three hours here today as the guest of Vice President Dawes. Later he boarded his special train for the trip to the summer White House at the Brule, where he will spend two days with President Coolidge.

The Republican presidential nominee had a pleasant overnight journey from Washington and was greeted along the lines by fairly large crowds. He made his first rear platform talk during the forenoon at Fort Wayne, Ind., where several hundred citizens greeted him. After the first cheers had died down the candidate posed for pictures and then responded to demands for a speech.

"This is no occasion for a political speech on Sunday morning," he said. "However, I do appreciate greatly the sentiment and courtesy of your coming down to the depot."

Met by Dawes at Chicago.

Upon his arrival at the Union Station here early in the afternoon, Hoover was met by the Vice President, who accompanied him through the cheering throngs gathered in the concourse.

The candidate paused on the balcony to wave his hat before entering an automobile with Mr. Dawes for the long drive to Evanston along Chicago's picturesque lake shore.

At the Dawes home another crowd awaited, and Mr. Hoover finally was forced to respond to the continuous applause by appearing on the front porch of the massive brick and stone home. Again there were demands for a speech. But this time the candidate was silent.

This is the commerce secretary's first campaign tour for public office, but he is quickly acclimating himself to his new role. He has a genial smile and a broad wave of the hand for those who greet him along the route and at some stops in the course of the morning he leaned over the railing on the rear platform to grasp the hands of those nearest to him.

Asked About Breakfast. Mr. Hoover had an experience at Lima, Ohio, which appeared to amuse him considerably. Some man far back

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3, COLUMN 6.

Heat Wave in Europe; Four Dead in Brussels

Brussels, Belgium, July 15 (A.P.).—The heat wave which has gripped Europe today became more intense in Belgium today. Four deaths and eleven prostrations were reported.

London, July 15 (A.P.).—Great Britain's heat wave reached its climax today when a temperature of 91 degrees in the shade was registered at Kew, near London. This was the highest temperature recorded in England in the last five years.

Vienna, Austria, July 15 (A.P.).—The heat wave in Austria has been responsible for a great increase in the number of bathing casualties. Since July 1 more than 100 bathers have been drowned in Austrian rivers and lakes.

Record Military Cortège For Carranza at New York

10,000 U. S. Troops, Largest Escort in City's History, Is to Accompany Body of Mexican Good-Will Flier; Planes to Circle Over Line of March.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Impressive ceremonies in which 10,000 troops and a large squadron of airplanes will participate are to mark the departure of the body of Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican flier, who was killed when his plane crashed near Mount Holly, N. J., last Thursday night, for Mexico City, next Wednesday.

Capt. Carranza was killed shortly after he set out from Roosevelt Field on what was to be a nonstop flight to Mexico City on the return journey from a good-will flight which took him from Mexico City to Washington.

At the request of Arturo Elias, consul general at New York, no religious ceremony of any kind will be held in New York or at any point on the route of the funeral train which will bear the body of the Mexican ace to the capital of his own country.

Plans formulated today by American and Mexican army officers provide for the largest funeral cortège that has ever escorted the body of a soldier through the streets of New York.

Brig. Gen. Otto B. Rosenbaum, commanding the First Division at Fort

STRUCK BY BLADE

MRS. HUGH D. AUCHINCLOSS.

SMITH FOR O. D. YOUNG AS NEW YORK GOVERNOR

General Electric Chairman Is Reported Choice of State Executive.

IS THIRD BUSINESS PLAY

By JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT. Special to The Washington Post.

Albany, N. Y., July 15.—Again Al Smith has drafted into Democratic politics a magnate of big business. The governor today selected Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric Co., a director of General Motors, and Vice President Dawes' closest colleague on the Dawes reparations commission, as the Democratic nominee for the governorship of New York.

This is Smith's third big play to big business since Wednesday, when he had John J. Raskob, of General Motors, made chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Col. Herbert H. Lehman, Jewish banker and philanthropist, made head of the committee which will finance the Democratic presidential campaign.

Concerning the governor's selection of the head of General Electric, the Albany Knickerbocker Press (Republican) will say tomorrow morning: "The governor's selection of Mr. Young as the standard bearer of the party in New York State is regarded as a plain indication that he will commit the State leaders to the same political platform to grasp the hands of those nearest to him."

Leopold and Astrid Boored in Belgium

Bruges, Belgium, July 15 (A.P.).—While Prince Leopold and Princess Astrid were passing in a royal procession on an official visit to the Cathedral where they deposited wreaths on a war memorial, a number of anti-Royalists attempted a demonstration, blowing whistles and booing.

A scuffle occurred with the police and some of the demonstrators were roughly handled. Ten persons were arrested.

Record Arrest Is Made In Patronage Inquiry

Biloxi, Miss., July 15 (A.P.).—A third arrest was made today in connection with the Federal grand jury's investigation of Federal appointments in Mississippi when deputy United States marshals took into custody here William E. Miller, postmaster at Wiggins, Miss., on an indictment charging "purchase and sale of public offices."

It was intimated that a fourth indictment returned might involve several persons.

Smyrna Is Shaken By Hard Earthquake

London, July 15 (A.P.).—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Smyrna reported that a severe earthquake shook Smyrna today.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 14, COLUMN 3.

MRS. H. AUCHINCLOSS VICTIM OF WHIRLING AIRSHIP PROPELLER

Society Leader Suffers Fractured Skull at the Naval Air Station.

HELD NEAR DEATH AFTER TRANSFUSION

Woman Walks Into Speeding Blades After Flight With Pilot H. J. White.

Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, 26 years old, of 2121 Kalamazoo road northwest, who is internationally prominent in society, was reported near death early today at Providence Hospital. Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon she was struck in the head by a propeller of an airplane at the Naval Air Station in Anacostia.

Mrs. Auchincloss accompanied by several friends, had just landed at the beach at the air station after a flight over the city. The flight was made in a two-motored Sikorsky amphibian plane, piloted by Henry J. White, of New York City, who is stopping at the Mayflower Hotel. The plane, it was said at the air station, was built by Baron Igor Sikorsky for the Pan-American Airways, successful bidders for Key West to Panama air mail contract.

Emerging from the passenger cabin of the plane, according to reports, Mrs. Auchincloss hurried to the other side of the ship, evidently to express her gratitude to White for the flight.

Walks Into Whirling Blades. She walked into a propeller of the plane, her head being deeply cut and her skull broken. Her hat was cut in two by the force of the blow.

A naval ambulance was summoned and Mrs. Auchincloss, unconscious, was hurried to Providence Hospital. En route she was given first aid treatment by Maj. Robert A. Hale, of the Army Medical Corps, stationed at Bolling Field.

At the hospital a blood transfusion was given Mrs. Auchincloss in an effort to save her life. Dr. H. G. Grove gave more than a pint of his blood in the transfusion.

The operation was performed by Dr. James F. Mitchell, one of the Capital's most prominent surgeons. He was assisted by several staff physicians of Providence Hospital.

The Sikorsky plane has been at the Naval Air Station for the past few days and made two flights with local residents as passengers yesterday. Following the grave accident no other flights were made.

Mrs. Auchincloss' husband, Hugh D. Auchincloss, who is a special agent of the Department of Commerce, had been up in the plane and was waiting for her at the air station when the ship landed.

Prior to her marriage to Mr. Auchincloss in 1925 she was Mary de Chrapovitski, a member of a family in the Russian nobility. Her family fled to this country at the time of the Russian revolution. Mrs. Auchincloss has been prominent in social relief work for Russia and the Far East

THIRTY ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS IN SUNDAY TRAFFIC

Five Seriously Hurt in Capital
Hospitals After Sunday Takes Toll.

3 TRIPLE COLLISIONS
ADD TO CASUALTIES

Eleven Listed When "House on Wheels" Goes Off Road in Virginia.

Thirty persons were victims of traffic mishaps yesterday in the capital and its environs. Five of those injured were reported to be in a critical condition.

Ten persons were hurt in a triple collision at T-B, Md. Automobiles driven by Suford Brinkley, 22 years old, of 1214 O street northwest; John Huddell, colored, 49 years old, of 1804 Thirteenth street northwest; and Mrs. Ella Schieler, of Townshend, Md., were in collision. The injured were taken to Casualty Hospital by passing motorists, where the services of seven physicians were required to attend their needs.

Suford Brinkley suffered a probable broken skull and numerous serious cuts of the head and face, besides possible internal injuries. His condition is serious. Earl Warden, 24 years old, of 1437 Clifton street northwest, who was riding with Brinkley, was also seriously hurt, suffering internal injuries and a broken left arm. The other occupants of the car, Toy Brinkley, 19 years old brother of the driver, and Herbert Cranshaw, 17 years old, of 1215 O street northwest, escaped with minor cuts about the head and arms.

Man and Wife Injured.

Huddell and his wife, Rose B. Huddell, colored, 45 years old, were critically hurt. She suffered internal injuries, cuts and bruises and she sustained a possible broken skull besides minor bruises and cuts. The other occupants of the car, all colored, were not injured. John Griffin, 24, minor injuries; his wife, Ruth, 24, cuts about the left arm; Marion Huddell, 13, minor cuts and bruises; and Elaine Huddell, 7, minor injuries.

The injured were given treatment by the following physicians at the hospital: Joseph D. Rogers, A. M. MacDonald, Cecil M. Hall, Joseph Ridge, Joseph R. Young, L. H. H. and J. H. Wanda.

Andrew W. Manger, 33 years old, secretary of the Diamond Taxicab Company, of 1334 Fourteenth street northwest, was seriously injured in a collision with a car driven by a representative of a taxicab company of Chicago, Ill., and Miss Myrtle Sayre, of 1313 K street northwest, were reported in Mary Washington Hospital at Fredericksburg, Va., as the aftermath of an automobile mishap yesterday morning near Index, Va.

Reports from Virginia authorities stated that the automobile, driven by Manger, was bound for Colonial Beach and skidded and overturned near Index. Mr. Lloyd was reported to be critically injured with a probable fracture of the skull. Although Mr. Manger and Miss Sayre were painfully cut and bruised, their condition was not termed serious.

Twelve-year-old Inez Williams, colored, of 3208 Reservoir road northwest, was painfully cut and bruised about the body when struck and knocked down by an automobile, driven by C. E. Jordan, of 1262 Twenty-first street northwest, at Washington Circle northwest. She was taken to Georgetown hospital by Jordan and treated.

Mrs. Marie Hughes and her three-year-old son, Hugh, suffered minor cuts and bruises as the result of a traffic mishap at Fourteenth and F streets northwest. They were treated at Emergency hospital. Charles D. Hughes, the husband and father, accountant for the Union Steel Product Co., of Albin, Mich., was attempting to make a left hand turn with his automobile and collided with a Washington Railway and Electric Co. street car.

Eleven Hurt in Crash.

Policeman George Walter, of the Traffic Bureau, who was directing traffic, declared that he attempted to warn Hughes not to make the turn by blowing his whistle. Walter hailed a passing automobile and took the injured to the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, parents of the driver, and two other children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes, were in the car but escaped injury.

Eleven persons, nine of them colored, were injured in a triple auto mishap on the Virginia State highway below Alexandria early last night. The crash occurred at the intersection of the highway and the "House on Wheels," carrying seventeen negro theatrical troupers on their way to Richmond, left the highway between Hybla Valley and Alexandria, causing injury to nine of them, two automobiles collided at the same spot, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

Physicians at the hospital gave first aid to the injured, while traffic officers, and disarmed them with weapons obtained from the troupers.

Three colored persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a triple collision in front of 1915 Good Hope road southeast.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

Three colored persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a triple collision in front of 1915 Good Hope road southeast.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

Three colored persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a triple collision in front of 1915 Good Hope road southeast.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

Three colored persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a triple collision in front of 1915 Good Hope road southeast.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

Three colored persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a triple collision in front of 1915 Good Hope road southeast.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

POLICEMAN'S AID INJURED AS CROWD ATTACKS HIM

One Woman Shot and Another Held on Four Charges of Assault.

CITIZEN IS BEATEN IN ROW

Attacked by a crowd of negroes while helping Policeman J. F. McFarlane, of the Sixth Precinct, arrest a colored woman after a girl had been shot at 323 Missouri avenue northwest, Sidney Garfield Lucas, 48 years old, 337 Missouri avenue northwest, sustained severe injuries on his head in the row which nearly precipitated a riot.

Lucas was taken to Casualty Hospital where it was stated he had a fractured skull and severe lacerations on the face. After being bandaged, Lucas left the hospital against the advice of physicians. Jeanette Hawkins, colored, 13 years old, 300 Missouri avenue northwest, was taken to Emergency Hospital with a bullet in her thigh, and Florence Dorn, alias Montgomery, colored, 26 years old, 1125 Fourth street northwest, was taken to the police report, the Dorn woman left the house and returned with a revolver with which she began shooting at a crowd of negroes with intent to kill.

The disturbance began with an altercation between Annie Hamilton, colored, 223 Missouri avenue, and the Dorn woman. According to the police report, the Dorn woman left the house and returned with a revolver with which she began shooting at a crowd of negroes with intent to kill.

The report stated:

When Policeman McFarlane attempted to arrest the woman, she fired four shots at him, but missed, he reported. Then Lucas came to the policeman's assistance. As he did so, a crowd of negroes that had been attracted by the shooting jumped him. All escaped but Lucas was injured.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

George Brown, colored, 42 years old, 1427 First street northwest, Minnie Williamson, colored, 22 years old, 709 O street northwest, and Ella Brown, colored, 31 years old, while traffic officers were attempting to untangle the traffic jam. Two motorists were placed in passing machines and treated at the Alexandria Hospital, as were the nine troupers injured.

DIES IN CHICAGO

REPRESENTATIVE HENRY R. RATHBONE.

RATHBONE WORKED MUCH FOR CAPITAL

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

Who knew him said it pleased him to hear somebody remark on the resemblance.

Great Friend of District.

A Lincoln birthday celebration always found Rathbone on the platform delivering a glowing eulogy of the great Civil War leader. But he did more than talk about his idol. In the Sixty-ninth Congress he put through a bill that brought him much praise from lovers of Lincoln. This was the bill authorizing the purchase of the famous Oldroyd collection of Lincoln relics.

At the last session of Congress Rathbone introduced a bill to convert the Ford Theatre into a Lincoln museum. Here would be placed the Oldroyd replica and other Lincolniana. Here also veterans' organizations would hold their meetings and conventions. The bill was favorably reported to the House but failed of passage. It is expected that friends of Rathbone will seek to get it through at this session.

When he was one of the best friends of the District ever had in Congress. He gave much of his time to District affairs and did much to convert other members to his sympathetic viewpoint.

Obtained First Post.

Rathbone was one of the best friends of the District ever had in Congress. He gave much of his time to District affairs and did much to convert other members to his sympathetic viewpoint.

Rathbone was one of the best friends of the District ever had in Congress. He gave much of his time to District affairs and did much to convert other members to his sympathetic viewpoint.

Rathbone was one of the best friends of the District ever had in Congress. He gave much of his time to District affairs and did much to convert other members to his sympathetic viewpoint.

BETTER JITTER SERVICE BY TAXIS TO BE SOUGHT

Harry C. Davis Will Endeavor to Reorganize Program for Rainy Days.

COMMISSION IS TO MEET

An attempt to reorganize Washington's "jitter" taxi service in the morning of the long-fought suit to prevent the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission from collecting special assessments for benefits to property in Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties, said yesterday that the action on Saturday of the court of appeals of Maryland in refusing an appeal in the case will not deter him from taking the case to the United States Supreme Court on a writ of error.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

SANITARY COMMISSION CASE WILL BE APPEALED

Montgomery Attorney Plans to Carry Assessment Suit to Supreme Court.

TAX SYSTEM QUESTIONED

An attempt to reorganize Washington's "jitter" taxi service in the morning of the long-fought suit to prevent the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission from collecting special assessments for benefits to property in Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties, said yesterday that the action on Saturday of the court of appeals of Maryland in refusing an appeal in the case will not deter him from taking the case to the United States Supreme Court on a writ of error.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Several months ago Mrs. Noel filed a bill in the Montgomery County circuit court to restrain the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in its efforts to collect additional water and sewer system taxes on a front foot basis, levied against property of the complainant, claiming that when the water and sewer lines were laid, the sanitary commission made a flat rate of front foot taxation to cover a period of years. Judge Robert B. Peters, after extended hearings, enjoined the commission in the collection of the additional taxes. The sanitary commission then filed a demurrer to the bill of complaint, was overruled and appealed the case to the court of appeals of Maryland, which several weeks ago reversed the decision of the Montgomery County circuit court. Noel then asked for a rehearing of the case, which the court of appeals refused on Saturday. Noel said yesterday that he will take the case before the United States Supreme Court.

TWELFTH & F

Berberich's

TWELFTH & F

Fine Footwear for the Family

1/4 & 1/2

Less Than Regular Prices

Arch Preserver, Nunn-Bush, Johnston & Murphy and Selz Shoes for men.

Red Cross, Hanan and other fine shoes for women, and Pied Piper Health Shoes for children.

1/4 OFF 1/4 OFF 1/2 OFF

Berberich's

TWELFTH & F STS.

LAND ON WHICH MONROE WAS BORN TO BE SOLD

2 LONG-TERM CONVICTS VANISH FROM SING SING

Westmoreland County Tract to Be Auctioned at Colonial Beach.

Men Leave No Clue Behind as to Manner of Escape From the Big Prison.

SALE SET FOR JULY 28

ONE IS DISGUISE EXPERT

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—An announcement is made of the intended sale, in a pending chancery case in Westmoreland County, of a tract there on which James Monroe's birthplace is said to have stood. The sale is to be made, it is said, by a special commissioner in the suit of "Mason, trustee, against Stuart and others," on July 28 at the postoffice door at Colonial Beach.

A great deal is known about the childhood of James Monroe, because he very modestly did not write any memoirs. It is known that he was born in Westmoreland County, April 28, 1758, and that the place of his birth was "near the head of Monroe Creek."

The home in which he was born has long since disappeared. So long a time has elapsed that not even the remains of its foundation or of its stony chimney are to be found—these Virginia homes of the middle eighteenth century period might be of slight pretension, but they would always boast of a chimney and suggested stability and comfort.

James Monroe was descended in the fifth generation from Andrew Monroe, who came from Scotland and settled in Maryland about the middle of the seventeenth century.

This Andrew Monroe, the emigrant ancestor, later came across the bay to Westmoreland County, and it was on the estate of this ancestor that James Monroe, his eminent descendant, was born.

The home in which he was born has long since disappeared. So long a time has elapsed that not even the remains of its foundation or of its stony chimney are to be found—these Virginia homes of the middle eighteenth century period might be of slight pretension, but they would always boast of a chimney and suggested stability and comfort.

James Monroe was descended in the fifth generation from Andrew Monroe, who came from Scotland and settled in Maryland about the middle of the seventeenth century.

This Andrew Monroe, the emigrant ancestor, later came across the bay to Westmoreland County, and it was on the estate of this ancestor that James Monroe, his eminent descendant, was born.

The home in which he was born has long since disappeared. So long a time has elapsed that not even the remains of its foundation or of its stony chimney are to be found—these Virginia homes of the middle eighteenth century period might be of slight pretension, but they would always boast of a chimney and suggested stability and comfort.

James Monroe was descended in the fifth generation from Andrew Monroe, who came from Scotland and settled in Maryland about the middle of the seventeenth century.

This Andrew Monroe, the emigrant ancestor, later came across the bay to Westmoreland County, and it was on the estate of this ancestor that James Monroe, his eminent descendant, was born.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—In an open answer to the circular letter sent out by Bishop James H. Cannon of St. Louis, Mo., calling the clergy to support the cause of the Bible history professor, Dr. William Forrest, professor of biblical history at the University of Virginia, Dr. Forrest said:

"I have long been weary of the un-Christian, unpatriotic, unconstitutional bigotry which would penalize an American citizen for his religious beliefs and for his loyalty to his country."

"I pray God that this election may force upon our countrymen a more honest expression to 'earnest hope' that Smith will be elected."

"I shall vote for Smith because he is the standard-bearer of the party which, even at its worst, holds out the promise of a more honest administration of government in the interests of all the people."

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

Richmond, Va., July 15 (AP).—The body of Peter Zola, 20, was found by police in a ditch-perforated car near here early today. Carl Fitzpatrick, 23, seriously wounded, was found in a ditch nearby.

Police said they learned the pair had ordered a truck load of whisky to be delivered on the spot last night, intending to hold up the bootleggers.

1331 F STREET

News that should be on the front page.

We've taken our regular stock of $35 and $40

Haddington 2 Pants Suits

and we've put them through severe reducing exercises! The reductions, of course, apply only to the price, and not to the quality, style or workmanship—all of which are solidly built into these famous clothes! For men who prefer a suit of dignified cut and pattern, as well as for the younger chap who is competing with the college set for sartorial honors! Quite a large selection to choose from—and a perfect fit for any man!

$1.50 and $2

Handmade Cravats

95c

All Straw Hats Reduced 25%

$2.50 to $4

REYEM SHIRTS

$1.69

3 for $5

All $5 Bathing Suits

$2.95

75c

Novelty Hose

39c

All $1 Shorts or Pullover Shirts

79c

MEYER'S SHOP

Everything That Men Wear

1331 F Street

Invading 319 O street southwest yesterday afternoon, a raid was made by the Fourth Precinct police led by Lieut. E. T. Harney, reported the seizure of two stills, one of 150-gallon capacity, and the other of 75-gallon capacity, and 200 quarts of whisky and 750 gallons of alleged mash. Cecil Coleman, of the O street address, was arrested on charges of illegal possession of the stills, manufacture and possession of liquor.

Lieut. Harney and Detectives Robert J. Barrett and W. C. Curtis entered the house, they said, Coleman was discovered with a still in the rear of the house, and Coleman was arrested on charges of illegal possession of the stills, manufacture and possession of liquor.

Invading 319 O street southwest yesterday afternoon, a raid was made by the Fourth Precinct police led by Lieut. E. T. Harney, reported the seizure of two stills, one of 150-gallon capacity, and the other of 75-gallon capacity, and 200 quarts of whisky and 750 gallons of alleged mash. Cecil Coleman, of the O street address, was arrested on charges of illegal possession of the stills, manufacture and possession of liquor.

Lieut. Harney and Detectives Robert J. Barrett and W. C. Curtis entered the house, they said, Coleman was discovered with a still in the rear of the house, and Coleman was arrested on charges of illegal possession of the stills, manufacture and possession of liquor.

Invading 319 O street southwest yesterday afternoon, a raid was made by the Fourth Precinct police led by Lieut. E. T. Harney, reported the seizure of two stills, one of 150-gallon capacity, and the other of 75-gallon capacity, and 200 quarts of whisky and 750 gallons of alleged mash. Cecil Coleman, of the O street address, was arrested on charges of illegal possession of the stills, manufacture and possession of liquor.</

EYEWITNESS TELLS OF RESCUE OF ITALIA SURVIVORS BY RADIO

Viglieri Group Sent Up Smoke Signals After Sighting Krassin.

MEN WERE PROVIDED WITH BOATS AND FOOD

Those Who Stayed With Airship Wreck Believed Others Had Perished.

Moscow, July 15 (A.P.)—An eyewitness account of the rescue of the Viglieri group of Italia survivors by the icebreaker Krassin last Thursday is given in a radiogram to Tass, the official Soviet news agency, from its correspondent, Shipanov, on board the steamer, as follows:

"The group rescued and now aboard the Krassin consists of Viglieri, Cicconi, Trovati, Behunek and Sigli. "Thursday at 4:15 p. m. they heard the Krassin's sirens and sighted her shortly after. Immediately they raised the Clita di Milano, indicating the observation angle at a distance of 25 kilometers, thus helping the Krassin to locate the group which was rendered difficult by fog. The Krassin lookout sighted the advanced group at 7:30.

"The group rescued and now aboard the Krassin consists of Viglieri, Cicconi, Trovati, Behunek and Sigli. "Thursday at 4:15 p. m. they heard the Krassin's sirens and sighted her shortly after. Immediately they raised the Clita di Milano, indicating the observation angle at a distance of 25 kilometers, thus helping the Krassin to locate the group which was rendered difficult by fog. The Krassin lookout sighted the advanced group at 7:30.

"The Krassin halted in close ice at 80 meters distant. Fifteen meters away was the radio mast of the Italia on a heap of wreckage of the chief gondola.

"The rescued group was well provided with food and warm clothing, as well as sleeping bags and three pneumatic boats held ready for emergency. "The Krassin's plane lay upside down 30 meters away on the very edge of the field. The plane's upper wings were smashed, the lower being utilized as a floor for the tent.

"It is impossible to convey in words the joy of the rescued men, who were unaware of the proximity of the Krassin. They told the details of Malmgren's departure, saying that despite his illness he went as leader of the contact group, assigned to this task because of his knowledge of local conditions. Everyone believed the Malmgren group had perished, thinking their rescue improbable.

"At the beginning the Viglieri group envied the Malmgren party since the latter moved upward, but things changed when they learned the tremendous difficulty under which Malmgren and his companions moved over the ice.

"The planes flying over the Viglieri group dropped weapons, but they were not used as no boats were seen, except the bear killed by Dr. Malmgren with the sole revolver in the party.

"Viglieri and his associates regard the help given by the airplanes as substantial, but can not find sufficient words to praise the Soviet expedition."

DIED

ELLIS—On Friday, July 13, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Ellis, 65, died.

FISHER—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Fisher, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

WILLIAMS—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Williams, 65, died.

ITALY REPORTED AS HOLDING GEN. NOBILE PRISONER ON SHIP

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

head. Hoping that, driven by hunger, he would go on with us, we waited. Realizing this, Malmgren cried: "Go! Go! Go! At the price of my life, you'll save all."

No food for 12 days.

"We marched on, suffering great privation. One mile from Brok Island Mariano became blind and again we drifted with the ice. During our wandering we saw six airplanes only about a mile distant, but none save Chukhovsky (Russian aviator aboard Krassin) saw us, despite our frantic signals.

"For twelve days we did not eat anything. Mariano felt death approaching at the sight of Chukhovsky's plane and begged me to place his body aboard the plane after death should befall him. Upon seeing the Krassin, Mariano regained his 'ebbing life.'"

"The Italia crashed on May 24, the accounts from Prof. Samoilovich as related to him by Zapol went on. Thick ice formed on the dirigible and she sank eastward, head first. When the gondola struck the ice, the passengers were hurled overboard. The Krassin, however, was still in the vicinity and killed and buried in the ice by his comrades.

"The balloon was freed from the gondola," the radiogram continued, "and drifted skyward in the distance, soon to explode and burst into flames. They fixed the radio but could only hear, not send. On May 30 Malmgren, Mariano and I went in the direction of Cape Nord, hoping to meet Norwegian traders taking provisions.

Poet Assails Nobile.

Strong criticism of the conduct of the Nobile expedition was again voiced in the Soviet press today as the result of reports which said that the two companions of Dr. Finn Malmgren left him still in the party, and the newspaper Komsmol'skaya Pravda.

DIED

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

HARRISON—On Saturday, July 14, 1928, at his residence, 1312 N. Street, northwest, at 2 p. m. after a long illness, Mr. J. H. Harrison, 65, died.

The Washington Post.

THE WASHINGTON POST CO.
Washington, D. C.
EDWARD R. MCKEAN,
President and Publisher.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Washington Post is a member of the Associated Press, receiving the complete service of the world's greatest news-gathering organization.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Delivered by Carrier in Washington.
Daily, Sunday included, one year..... $24.00
Daily, Sunday included, one year..... 6.00
Sunday only, one year..... 2.00
Daily, Sunday included, one month..... 2.00
Daily, Sunday included, one month..... .50
Sunday only, one month..... .20
Sunday only, one month (with five Sundays)..... .25

BY MAIL, PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.
Delivered by Carrier in Washington.
Daily, Sunday included, one year..... $24.00
Daily, Sunday included, one year..... 6.00
Sunday only, one year..... 2.00
Daily, Sunday included, one month..... 2.00
Daily, Sunday included, one month..... .50
Sunday only, one month..... .20
Sunday only, one month (with five Sundays)..... .25

ALL OTHER STATES.
(Mexico and Canada incl.)
Daily, Sunday included, one year..... $26.00
Daily, Sunday included, one year..... 6.50
Sunday only, one year..... 2.25
Daily, Sunday included, one month..... 2.25
Daily, Sunday included, one month..... .55
Sunday only, one month..... .22
Sunday only, one month (with five Sundays)..... .27

New subscriptions for The Post or renewals will not be accepted unless payment accompanies the order. Remittances should be made by check, postal note, registered letter or express order, payable to The Washington Post Co.

Entered at the Postoffice, Washington, D. C., as second class mail matter.

National Advertising Representative—PAUL BLOCK, Inc., 1000 National Building, New York City; Century Building, Chicago; Little Building, Boston; General Motors Building, Detroit; Guaranty Trust Building, Philadelphia; Chancery Building, San Francisco.

Monday, July 16, 1928.

PULLMAN STRIKE.

Thus far all information as to the strike of Pullman car attendants has come from representatives of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters under the leadership of which the strike plan was laid. The Pullman Co. has said little or nothing. It is believed generally that the company is inclined to fight and that careful counter-plans have been made to offset those of the brotherhood. Although union representatives apparently are confident of success, the fact that Pullman officials are sitting back so quietly leads many to believe that they have trump cards up their sleeves.

Whether or not there would be a strike was uncertain until last Friday evening. Originally the strike was called for June 8. It was postponed, however, upon the advice of the American Federation of Labor. Early last week the policy committee of the brotherhood met in New York. Its sessions were concluded on Friday and an announcement was made that secret strike directions had been placed in sealed envelopes for delivery to district organizers. After these have been delivered the strike call will be issued unless the company in the meantime comes to terms, say brotherhood officials, and the 7,500 members will walk out forthwith.

At this season of the year a Pullman porters' strike is apt to be a serious matter. Viciously necessary travel, of course, would not be disrupted thereby for those who must use trains can do without the luxury of Pullman sleeping accommodations, but vacation travel would be hard hit and the railroads would suffer severe losses of revenue. The Pullman Co., however, may be prepared to carry on according to regular schedule. Not all porters and maids will answer the strike call and those who remain on duty will constitute a nucleus around which a temporary organization can be built up. If, however, other railway unions look with sympathy upon the porters' strike a genuinely serious situation may be precipitated.

It will be a great pity if the questions in issue can not be solved peacefully. The principle of arbitration of labor disputes has been adopted widely of recent years in the United States. Strikes always are to be deplored if for no other reason than that they are uneconomic, and that as a general thing they result in but temporary advantage to one side or the other. Some way should be found to settle the difficulties in which the Pullman Co. and its employees now find themselves involved.

A NEW MALARIA FOE.

Outlets for scrap rubber are being assiduously cultivated with the result that reclaimed rubber is being used to good advantage both for automobile and bicycle tires. It is not, therefore, a problem of utilization of scrap rubber, so much that is presented in the new field of rubber oil. It has been found feasible to make a kind of oil from used-up rubber, virtually worthless for reclaiming by acid methods for reuse, that is deadly to mosquitoes.

Whatever other values rubber oil may develop as it comes more into knowledge, the present claim made for it is that it strengthens the foes of malaria substantially. It has been established that rubber oil is very much more effective than mineral oils in discouraging mosquito pests. Use that has been made of the oil in some parts of the East, has confirmed it as being deadly to the mosquito larvae. Substitution of this oil for mineral oils, depends upon the cost of extraction. The material is not costly and the process appears to be a simple one. Indeed, it may be found to go along with the chemical treatment of scrap rubber in the process of its reclamation. So that rubber oil as a by-product in the recovery of a worn-out material, offers an attractive field for observation for those who are interested in salvaging rubber, and, also, for the promoters of scientific hygiene and sanitation.

The conversion of pestilential areas to wholesomeness for human living, and discouragement of the spread of such contagious as malaria and yellow fever, wait upon augmenting the foes of the disease-carrying mosquitoes. The comfort of urban dwellers is also in the field of interest in the newer method for fighting the mosquito pest. There is no reason why Americans should not add this oil to their manufactures and thus find domestic outlet for some of the scrap rubber which seeks a market in Japan and to China, where, among other ingenious uses, the best of the inner tubes are made up into garters.

LEVELS OF EMPLOYMENT.

As long as man differs from an automaton by his ability to adapt himself in the field of experience and of need, there is little likelihood of the majority of workers who are not pressed into kinds of employment which wholly sap initiative, failing to break through any kind of barrier that may be set up to regulate the flow of their activities. Specialization in the direction of increasing efficiency with respect to the mental worker who is free of the limitations of machinery, is pictured as creating levels of employment. So that the bookkeeper finds his work divided into specialized units, and the range of accountancy has become a varied occupation rather than one centered in the experience of an individual.

The tendency upon the whole as pointed out by the Bureau of Education is an excellent one, so long as the specialization looks to the employment of the individual at that for which he is best fitted. Indeed, this lies at the base of the newer conception of levels of employment. The very fact of breaking up of commercial occupations into a number of functions and trades tends to standardize them. Training for employment then may be undertaken with due regard both for the nature of the occupation and the adaptability of the individual.

The very fact that the States, generally, license those who undertake specialized services to the public, such as accountants and real estate operators, is indicative of an era of clear rules governing employment, which has made possible the responsible oversight that tends to insure that only the qualified in training and character may be permitted to operate. This all is in the direction of professionalizing employment; so that workers upon the higher levels may be rated as professionals without respect to the particular kind of work they do but with regard only to the intellectual qualities brought to bear.

Yet such tendencies must be carefully guided lest the process of elimination and of specialization should point in the direction of a form of communism, deriving its sanctions from the state in much the manner in which the workers of all classes in Russia are controlled and rated. In the American ideal the individual always rates above his task, and is master of it rather than being mastered by it; gaining his right to work through ability and the play of personality more than through rules of rote and conformity—valuable as these are coming to be in the inevitable increase of the demands of efficiency.

THE DOOMED OF DOPE.

Ten billions of dollars is the well-nigh incredible sum that has been charged against dope, in estimating the subtractions from the economic resources of the country which are suffered annually. One third of the crimes committed against society are alleged to be the work of dope addicts. Added to the volume of vice and crime which arises from this cause is to be reckoned, as well, the debauching of something like a million of the population, mostly youths, who are thus lost to society's productive service while largely enlisted for life in its destructive forces. Such a situation has come about too recently for the rapid growth of the narcotic problem to be grasped except by those who make its understanding and contest their specialty.

Opium, introduced from the East a century ago, followed by morphine, cocaine and then in 1893 by heroin, is the procession of narcotic evils which have outcropped sensationally in the modern banditry of the American cities. Prior to 1917 offenses against the Federal narcotic laws reached about one thousand annually; after that, with heroin making its rapid conversion of men and women into social outlaws, the number sprang to 2,000 in 1919, doubling two years later, and now exceeding 8,000.

The heroin victim, who experiences an almost instantaneous moral degeneration, with his character inhibitions superseded by an exalted sense of his own powers, not only takes to spectacular crime, to satisfy his hero sentiments, but is urged by every device he can conceive to recruit the ranks of heroin addicts. There is left with such persons not the slightest, foundation for restoration to normal; even if the possibility for recovery was not destroyed by reason of the fact that the drug is soluble in fats, and the fatty protection about the brain membrane offers no obstruction, so that the gray matter is attacked at once and progressively destroyed.

The problem of addiction is one that interests all normal persons as beset with supreme difficulties, particularly as those who are back of the so-called dope ring garner profits of 1,000 per cent, and every addict of the more serious forms of narcotic poisoning becomes a potential or actual disseminator of the vice. Education against addiction, and isolation of the addict, with the best care provided for his recovery or comfort, are the lines along which the foes of illicit drugs are working.

FOES OF HUMAN KIND.

A mere two million of dollars dropped from the estimated value of the peach crop in a single season through pest infection is nominal in comparison to the money lost entailed upon cotton in some seasons by the boll weevil, while the Mexican beetle has been carrying his trail of destruction of beans, even on up to this locality. In the meantime aeroplanes are sifting poison down upon the fields and a multitude of other measures are ever being employed for the fight which is the most dramatic that has been staged in human annals. In this contest, scientists give warning, is at issue the permanency of human residence upon the earth. Not that any one need seriously believe that the prevalence of insect pests and parasites will really work out such a calamitous destruction of the factors of human subsistence. But the level of prices of livelihood are governed not a little by what the insect pests leave for marketing.

The most relentless foes of human kind are those which man encourages by his dense ignorance of his physical environment. It is only recently that studies have revealed that the lowly toad carries on the destruction of the insect enemies of man upon a scale that is phenomenal. Science long ago showed that the earth worm is the founder of peoples and states and civilization by its upturning of the earth, thereby affording aeration and other incidents of fertility. Fortunately the art of Isaac Walton does not enlist the activities of all the people, or else mankind might use up the earth worms at a rate that would jeopardize its age-long creative enterprise!

If the agriculturist had been as careful to preserve the experience of his craft in respect to vegetable pests, from the days of the Pharaohs to the present, as were the astrologers to plot the heavens, man might through the centuries have come to an understanding of his friends and foes among birds, animals and insects. As it is he has been opening his fields to the enemies of one kind of pest, only to find that thereby he has added to the number of his undesirable insect or bird importations.

The close communication today between nations and between localities tends to the spread of the insect foes of human subsistence.

Automobiles may be looked over when they come from a region where some particular pest is virulent, goods and commodities of steamships may be inspected and many other safeguards observed, but the airship will have its day and offer further pest problems. Some scientists allege that minute insect swarms and bacterial hordes sweep through the upper atmosphere, being brought down by rains or by the air currents. The right of livelihood is at contest between man and his tiniest, seemingly puniest classes of foes.

ARNOLD OF RUGBY.

Rugby is, as every one knows, one of the great so-called "public" schools of England, ranking in reputation with Harrow and Eton, and known wherever football is played for having given its name to one of the codes. "Rugger," of course, stands in exactly the same relation to Rugby as "soccer" does to Association, the uncamouflaged forms of the titles of the two great football codes being Rugby and Association.

Rugby had its speech day recently, speech day being much the same thing as the American commencement, with this difference, however, that, instead of one valedictorian as in this country, several of the English boys are actually called upon to deliver to the visitors a "speech" in one form or other. At the recent celebration a boy named Dean recited some Latin hexameters, presumably of his own composition; another, rejoicing in the patronymic of Soudon, delivered a set of Greek lambics; and a third, with the sufficiently Anglo-Saxon looking cognomen of Hawkins, gave a French recitation. How much of the Latin, Greek and French was understood by the distinguished audience it might not be polite to inquire, but each of those languages made an evident appeal to most of those present, who showed their appreciation by vigorous applause.

Whatever might be said of the foreign languages, there was no doubt about the appropriateness of the English recitation given by W. R. Evers, for it was taken from Matthew Arnold's poem "Rugby Chapel." Readers of "Tom Browne's School-days" have no need to be reminded of the potent and pervasive influence exercised by Matthew Arnold's father as headmaster of Rugby. This year marks the centenary of his appointment to that position. There is a tendency, especially on the part of those to whom big numbers are a sort of fetish, to pay tribute to Dr. Thomas Arnold by saying that he found at Rugby a school containing only a few boys and made it a great school. That would be an easy thing to do; but what Arnold did was something very much more difficult. He found a big school and a fine school, and he made it and left it a much finer school. His influence and his ideals have been abiding not only at Rugby but also in every school in England and in many overseas. No Englishman has given the Christian education of boys a more definite direction than did Arnold of Rugby.

IMMIGRANT AIRPORTS.

Immigrants coming in at airports are destined to cause further complications in the work of checking up of incomers into the country. Although the immigration laws can be carried into the air and made applicable to those seeking entrance either from Canada or from the countries south, the machinery needs to be enlarged to meet the new conditions. This will doubtless be done with a view to expansion of air travel to include, ultimately, transatlantic points, so that the airports prescribed as ports of air entry will need to be carefully selected to cause the least future dislocation of the new machinery at such points.

The officials having the matter in hand may see here a promising opportunity for a wider distribution of immigrants than at present, gained through their entrance into the United States at a few ports. The congestion of aliens in the Eastern cities has been largely due to the inertia of the individual. There has been no sufficient means for their distribution, so that, although labor was greatly needed in the cane fields or the cotton fields or interior manufacturing districts, many of the incomers located in the cities and engaged there in what was too often a losing battle for the kind of domicile they had pictured to themselves as awaiting them in the land of promise.

State immigration boards sought to deflect the incomers to their particular borders, but that proved to be slow work, often unsatisfying. Even with the quota law in effect, automatically curtailing the entrance of aliens to approximately the point of absorption, congestion still goes on. Doubtless even many of those who have gravitated into the criminal and the vicious classes might have had different careers and become worthy citizens if they had been guided upon their entrance into America to localities where elbow room would have been theirs.

Although it is as yet seemingly a far cry to the time when passenger travel by air will be common, and particularly at rates that immigrants could command, it is nevertheless within the range of prospect as air travel is now developing. It would require little more planning to establish the immigrant airports at distributed points so that incomers might have a choice of either seaboard or interior destination.

At present the United States has immigrant inspectors at Canadian points and the checking up of those coming from the Dominion by air routes would, therefore, be simple. In the case of all others there would be need for inspectors located at the airports for full inspection of the incomers. With the growth of aircraft passenger traffic the elaboration of the machinery for care and inspection may be better obtained if there is broad planning at the start. Such appears to be the policy already in formation by the appropriate officials of the Department of Labor.

Pity the girl who has brains. Man's vanity impels him to fall in love with an inferior.

A casual study of political speeches suggests that the universal desire to be thin has now affected ideas.

Patriotism is the quality that makes all doctors seem quacks if they disagree with your doctor.

The old-time political speech aroused more enthusiasm, but the audience had more enthusiastic liquor.

The Difficulty of Saving the Right Party.

Detroit News.

PRESS COMMENT.

No Doubt.

Detroit News: The deepest gas well in the world is in Longbridge, Pa. Doubtless the shallowest would be in politics.

Clem Knows.

Ohio State Journal: We often wonder what Mrs. Clem Shaver says when she comes back home and discovers that Clem forgot to put down the windows when it rained.

Mainly the Latter.

San Francisco Chronicle: The two most important muscles that function without direction by the brain are the heart and the tongue.

All Needed.

Cincinnati Enquirer: Each eligible citizen should remember the registration days. There ought to be a fuller vote next November than there was four years ago.

Worth Missing.

Roanoke Times: Early to bed and early to rise, and you'll miss seeing a great deal that doesn't go on in the daytime.

Not Mentioning Names.

Atchison Globe: Live volcanoes are a terrible menace. And now and then are hideously destructive. But at that, every nation has a "shoot mouth statesman" who causes more destruction than any volcano.

An Age of Wild Flappers.

Detroit News: This is an age of kaleidoscopic change, and as one looks back in retrospect on Theda Bara, for example, she seems a rather domestic sort.

Height of Diplomacy.

New York Sun: A real diplomat would be a man who could inveigle a back-seat driver into starting a whistling campaign.

Solved.

Florida Times-Union: Undertakers complain that business is falling off. This must be attributed to the fact that better moonshine is being made.

Pleasant Failure.

Toledo Blade: What we'd like to see would be somebody trying to save the English sparrow from total extinction and fall utterly.

Interest Waning.

Louisville Times: A man may be said to have passed middle age when he no longer cares to go to a fire in his neighborhood.

According to Hoyle.

Philadelphia Inquirer: A bridge fiend says we can save President Coolidge for a reentry in 1932 or '36. The idea is perfect, but the technique is faulty; the ace is not a reentry card.

A Slight Advantage.

Rochester Democrat and Chronicle: A Swedish savant says the whole world will have to learn English. Well, we've got something of a star at it, anyway.

Thrifty Bootblacks.

Houston Post-Dispatch: At least two Houston bootblacks have acquired the habit of handing to their fair cus-

It Is Easier to Teach Children Good Manners If Your Feet Aren't on the Table

By ROBERT QUILLEN

ONCE upon a time numerous people in one of the States began to practice voodooism—an African sorcery and superstition which required human sacrifice. As the practice spread, the State passed a law forbidding anybody to possess a book on the subject.

Soon thereafter the police stopped and searched a man's car, found one of the forbidden books and presented the man for trial. The man elected to be his own attorney.

"Your Honor," he said to the judge, "there is no evidence against me, for no evidence has been legally obtained."

"How is that," asked the judge.

"What is the supreme law of the land?" asked the prisoner.

"The Constitution, of course."

"Well," said the prisoner, "the second clause of the sixth article of the Constitution says the judges in every State shall be bound by it, regardless of any State law. Isn't that right?"

"Quite right," the judge agreed.

"And the fourth amendment to the Constitution declares that my automobile shall not be searched without a warrant, does it not?"

"Yes," the judge agreed. "At least it says your 'effects' shall not be searched without a warrant issued upon probable cause and supported by oath and your automobile is one of your effects."

"I'm glad to find you so reasonable," said the prisoner. "Now, if the Constitution is the supreme law by which you are bound, and it guarantees my automobile against search without warrant, how can you accept evidence obtained in violation of the Constitution?"

"Voodooism," said the judge. "Is a bad thing. You had a book on the subject. I sentence you to a year in jail. Court is adjourned."

On the street the judge was stopped by a friend.

"Adjourned rather early, didn't you?" asked the friend.

"Yes," said the judge, "I have to make a speech."

"What's your subject?"

"My subject," said the judge, "is 'Duty'—the duty of every citizen to obey and respect the law and preserve inviolate the sacred Constitution which is the foundation of our liberties."

Doubtless the height of the elegant consists in crooking the little finger while drinking coffee from a saucer.

Let us not regret the passing of the old-fashioned large family. At best a flivver will hold only nine in comfort.

After taking a mail course to develop your personality, try persuading the gas or electric people to allow the discount when you're one day late.

"Reading maketh a full man," as Tunney will agree; but Mr. Tom Heeney's opinion is that it doesn't maketh a he-man.

(Copyright, 1928.)

expressed regarding what the national officials of the organization might say about it. A letter from Chief Scout Executive James E. West now reminds the head of the Cleveland scouts that he has no authority to enlist the youngsters in such impudent mischief-making, which is contrary to the principles of their movement. It was surprising that any scout leader would seek to institute such a crusade, with its accompanying of juvenile snoots and bunyodies making nuisances of themselves. But the prompt repudiation of the scheme from headquarters was quite expected. And the idea must have been as repugnant to the boys themselves as it was to the general public.

And Gain What? Minneapolis Journal: When George Eastman's national committee on calendar simplification meets in Washington, one of its first concerns should be to lengthen the months between its statements on the automobile.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Republic of Texas?

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Could a citizen of Texas be legally elected President of the United States?

I understand that there is an agreement between the United States and the "Republic of Texas" whereby Texas is permitted at any time, without hindrance, to withdraw from the Union.

If a citizen of Texas was elected President and Texas subsequently withdrew from the Union we would then have a foreign President ruling the United States would we not?

INQUIRITIVE

Jitney Taxes.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: As a citizen of Washington I would like to ask you if any attempt of the Public Utilities Commission to prevent taxicabs from carrying passengers for a ten-cent rate would not be an unwarranted interference with the rights of the people. In effect, it would be an attempt to force citizens to patronize the street cars whether they want to do so or not. The streets of a city are for the general use of the citizens and can not be monopolized by any traffic company. I cannot see where the commission gets any right to bar a taxi from using any street. If they have that right it would also give them the right to bar certain streets against privately owned vehicles. At the present rate of progress the time is not far distant when tracks for cars will be unknown in the streets of a crowded city.

CITIZEN.

Praise for Lawrence.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Lindbergh flew over the ocean. By doing so he gave to the world a new means of progress, and his success is well known all over the world. He has been feted, and demonstrations of all kinds have been held to prove that he has entered into the people's hearts by his daring flight. Yet there remains the fact, that in order to perform this flight successfully an engine of a superior construction was needed. The man who has constructed the engine that has made Lindbergh a hero is very little known and the people have heard very little of him.

Charles L. Lawrence was recently awarded the Collier Trophy. He designed the Wright air-cooled, whirlwind engine. Yes, the engine that has made famous Lindbergh, Byrd, Matland, Hegenberger, Brock, Schlee, Smith and Bronte. Too little credit has been given to such a man, who has been a means to the success of these celebrated men. Mr. Lawrence's remark, when he was asked what he received for his gift to the country, is appropriate. "Who ever heard of Paul Revere's horse?"

EMIL.

Penalties of Divorces.

Atchison Globe: In Paris a judge who granted 142 American divorces last year will face the superior council of magistrates in October on charges of neglect of duty. Other court officials and attorneys will face the same tribunal, and the penalties range from disbarment to suspension from practice for six months. Paris, it seems, doesn't want to be another Reno, even if there is money in it.

STUDEBAKER
Ask Us to Let You Drive It
Phone Potomac 1631

We Write Auto Insurance
BOSS & PHELPS
1417 K St. N.W. Main 9300

The Collier Inn
COLUMBIA RD. AT 18TH ST.
OPPOSITE AMBASSADOR
TONIGHT
8 Until 7:30
Broiled TENDERLOIN STEAK DINNER 75c
Or Your Choice of Our Regular Menu
Columbia 5042

CAPITAL SOCIETY EVENTS

THE Ambassador of France, M. Paul Claudel, who passed the week-end in New York, will return today to Washington.

The Attorney General, Mr. John G. Sargent, has joined Mrs. Sargent in their home in Vermont and will not return to Washington until September.

Representative and Mrs. Richard S. Aldrich entertained at dinner at Shore Acres, at Narragansett, on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Henry B. Spencer.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. William S. Sims have gone from Newport to Marion, Mass., for a visit.

The Commercial Counselor of the British Embassy, Sir John Broderick, passed the week-end as the guest of Mr. Frederic R. Couderc at his home at Oyster Bay, N. Y.

The Naval Attache of the Japanese Embassy, Capt. Tsuneyoshi Sakano; the Naval Attache of the Brazilian Embassy, Capt. Frederico Villar; the Naval Attache of the French Embassy, Commander Luis Sabie; and the Naval Attache of the Argentine Embassy, Commander Francisco Lajoux, will entertain at a dinner this evening in honor of the retiring Naval Attache of the Spanish Embassy, Commander Adolfo H. de Solas, at the Chevy Chase Club. Commander de Solas will start for Spain the end of the month.

The Third Secretary of the British Embassy, Mr. Michael Wright, will remain here until August 11, when he will be relieved by Mr. Henry L. d'A. Hopkinson, Third Secretary of the Embassy, who is now at Manchester, Mass. Mr. Wright expects to sail for England in September for a visit at his home.

The Undersecretary of the Treasury, Mr. Ogden L. Mills, is expected to return today from Newport where he has been with Mrs. Mills. Mrs. Mills and her children will pass the remainder of the season there. Mr. and Mrs. Mills have taken a cottage at Saratoga for the racing season.

The Assistant Secretary of War for Aviation and Mrs. F. Trubee Davison are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hanford MacNider at their home at Green Lake, Iowa.

Col. and Mrs. Arthur O'Brien and the latter's daughter, Miss Carolyn Roebing, have sailed for Europe, where they will pass several months. They will visit Mrs. O'Brien's son-in-law and daughter, Baron and Baroness von der Elst, in Brussels.

Capt. and Mrs. Lamar R. Leahy have been joined in Newport by the latter's mother, Mrs. Charles W. Clinton, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., who will pass July and August with them.

Col. Robert M. Thompson has arrived in Newport, R. I., on his house boat, the Everglades.

Misses Randolph Depart For North Shore Resort

Miss Anne Powell Randolph and Miss Mary Randolph have closed their home on Nineteenth street and have gone to the North Shore for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge are the guests of Mrs. Lodge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Sears, at the Cove House, their summer home at Beverly Cove, Mass.

Mrs. F. Hamilton McCormick-Goodhart will entertain at dinner tonight and again tomorrow evening at the Yacht Club at Bar Harbor, where she is passing the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Spencer have leased Wild Wild Farm on the Cliff at Narragansett. Mrs. Spencer has opened the cottage and Mr. Spencer will join her later in the season.

Mrs. Spencer has as her guests for the summer her daughters, Mrs. Benjamin Warder Thoron and Miss Louise Spencer.

Mr. Joseph E. Davies has returned from Asheville, N. C., where he has been the guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chesborough, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Chesborough entertained last week for Mr. Davies at a breakfast at the Country Club in Asheville following a ride of several hours through the mountains.

Maj. and Mrs. Congor Pratt are at Mitchell Field, Long Island, where Maj. Pratt is now stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Solger will start today to motor to their home at Castine, Maine.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. C. O. Kell passed the week-end at Annapolis, Md.

Miss Helen Standley, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. William H. Standley, passed the week-end in Annapolis as the guest of Mrs. Edmund B. Taylor, wife of Ensign Taylor, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valliant.

Mrs. Kincheloe to Motor To Home in Kentucky

Mrs. David H. Kincheloe, wife of Representative Kincheloe, will start today to motor to Madisonville, Ky., accompanied by Mrs. Edward Shields and Mrs. Louise Henderson. Mrs. Kincheloe entertained at luncheon on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Jordan, with Miss Virginia Peters and Miss Betty Byrne were the guests yesterday of Mr.

MISS KATHERINE AMORY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Copley Amory, who will soon join her parents at Nantucket Island, Mass.

R. Livingston Sullivan, of Philadelphia, on board his yacht Arlis for a cruise down the bay. Mr. Sullivan has had his yacht anchored off Annapolis and has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan at their home in Silver Spring, Md., for several days. Miss Peters and Miss Byrne have also been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan.

Miss Byrne, who has been in Jamestown, N. Y., will go to New York today and will sail on the Ile de France on Friday. She will remain abroad until September.

Mrs. J. Dryden Fuser, of Hendersonville, N. J., is in New York at the Ambassador. Mrs. Fuser is the former Miss Brooke Russell, of Washington.

Former Senator Richard P. Ernst with his daughter, Mrs. John Palmer Darnall, of Glendale, Ohio, and her sister-in-law, Miss Jane Darnall, are passing a few days in New York.

Miss Anne Cavendish Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin Boyle, was married to Mr. J. Hardy Patten, son of the Rev. A. B. Patten, D.D., of Torrington, Conn., on Saturday at 5 o'clock at Christ Church, Georgetown, the Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, rector, officiating.

The bride is a niece of Rear Admiral Bainbridge. Her father is a native of Kentucky, and was graduated from the University of Virginia. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of California, where he received his A. B., and of Columbia Law School, where he received his LL. B. He is a member of the D. K. E. Fraternity. He is associated with E. C. Zivard, special assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. and Mrs. Patten went to Oia Point Comfort and Virginia Beach Saturday for a two weeks honeymoon. They will live here in the Phillips Terrace Apartment. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle live at 3052 P street northwest.

Col. and Mrs. William Shunk have closed their apartment at Stoneleigh Court and have gone to Evanston, Ill., for the summer.

Mr. James Francis Burke, of Pittsburgh, is at the Willard Hotel, where he will remain for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Cogswell have as their guest Mrs. Cogswell's mother, Mrs. Walter C. Wright, who arrived yesterday from New Orleans.

Miss Irene King, who makes her home at the Grace Dodge Hotel, is passing some time at North Beach, Md.

Mrs. H. S. Nyman is at the Grace Dodge Hotel for an indefinite stay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Mellman, of Cleveland, Ohio, and their children, Doris,

DULIN & MARTIN CO.

Slip Covers

Special Reductions

Special Reductions in Our Drapery Department Including the Following Sharp Reductions on Slip Covers of the Finest Imported Belgian Linens.

Three-Piece Suites $32.50

Occasional Chairs $8.75

Large Size Chairs $10.00

Dulin & Martin Co.

1215 F Street
1214-18 G Street

"If I Have Mahogany Furniture

What Color Should I Use for Rugs, Paper and Hangings?"

MAHOGANY looks best with deep red or olive greens and other warm ruddy tones. With maple and similar light-colored woods, delicate grays, ivory, tints of raw sienna and umber, and subdued tones of old rose are most appropriate. With white enamel or ivory furniture, use delicate shades of light blue or pink or gray. Where white predominates, gold is also very effective.

YOU do not buy merely the furniture here; with it you receive, if you wish, advice that sympathetically seeks to make all the home interiors related and harmonious.

W. B. Moses & Sons

Public Confidence Since 1861
F Street at Eleventh Main 3770

Sons of Pericles Will Hold Outing

More than 300 members of the Order of the Sons of Pericles, composed of Greek boys of Washington, will hold an excursion today at Chesapeake Beach, Md., under the sponsorship of their junior lodge, the Alpheia.

An athletic program has been arranged by the committee in charge of the excursion, which is composed of S. John Giannitis, chairman; John Calomiris, Achilles Poulos, Arthur Eldes, G. Kontosoukos, G. Pappadeas and G. Chaconas.

ARE YOU SURE

you have plenty of insurance to protect your family and business? We would like to explain the Insurance Trust Plan of the

FEDERAL-AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK
Where G Street Crosses 14th

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

10TH 11TH F AND G STREETS

Beginning This Morning, 9:15

The Annual REDUCTIONS

On Men's and Young Men's

SUMMER SUITS

Two-piece SUITS $21.75 Were $25 and $27.50

Three-piece SUITS $29.50 Were $35 and $40

Fine Fabrics

Our entire stock of fine Tropical Worsteds, Imported Flannels, Two-ply Worsteds and Wool Crashes for your selection. And the plain blues, grays, tan mixtures and fancy pattern effects insure a smart choice.

Correct Styles

Correct two and three-button styles for both men and young men. Majority of men's models in three-button style, while young men prefer two buttons. Two-piece suits in models for both types; three-piece suits (coat, vest and trousers) for men and young men. Correct styles that well-dressed men are wearing.

In all proportions—"regulars," "longs," "shorts," "stouts." Not every size in every pattern, however—that's the very reason we advise that you—

See These Suits Today

MEN'S STORE—Second Floor.

Becker's 52nd Anniversary Sale!

An annual event offering unusual savings for every vacation traveler who wants to go away with smarter and longer lasting luggage.

Liberal Discounts of 10% to 33 1/3%

On Our Complete Stock of Luggage, Leather Goods, Ladies' Handbags, Etc.

$10 Wardrobe Hat Boxes

Special at $8.50

Good-looking, lightweight hat cases of black cobra Dupont, equipped with hanger, shoe compartment, etc.

Round Hat Boxes 15% to 1-3 Off

MEN'S Gladstone Bags—of Genuine PIGSKIN!

Leather of quality and rugged construction give these bags a distinctive appearance that will win any man at first sight.

$17.75

A Regular $25.00 Value

61 Pieces of Genuine Alligator Luggage At practically 1/2 price!

$65.00 Ladies' Suit Cases $29.50
$65.00 Square Hat Boxes 34.75
35.00 Overnight Cases 22.50
50.00 Men's Oxford Bags 29.50
65.00 Men's Gladstones 34.75
90.00 Men's Suit Cases 52.50

Truly remarkable values . . . made possible by a large special purchase of real alligator. Beautiful luggage that will last a lifetime . . . made in accordance with our own specifications.

Ladies' Suit Cases

Of Black Cobra Cowhide

$15.00

For Regular $21.00 Values

Fitted Tray Cases

Regular $40 Values in a large assortment of leathers and styles

$29.75

LADIES' HAND BAGS

$5.00 Values—Reduced to $3.75

Other Special Groups at $5.00 and $7.50

Hartmann Tourobes

For Pullman or Motor Car Use

Special at $16.50

Regularly $21.00

All Other Trunks Reduced 10% to 20%

Full Size, Steamer and Hand Wardrobes, Shoe Trunks, Hat Trunks, Dress Trunks

Golf Bags---10% OFF
Golf Clubs---20% OFF

Reductions of 10% to 1-3

Effective on small Leather goods of every description—and on all articles in the Becker Gift Shop, both imported and domestic.

BECKER'S LEATHER GOODS CO.

1314-16-18 F STREET, N. W.

The coolest and most delightful place in town for luncheon and dinner.

DANCING DURING DINNER

REPUTATION

By ANNE GARDNER.

Copyright, Register and Tribune Syndicate.

WHAT HAS GON, BEFORE.

APRIL LOW, brown haired, golden skinned girl from the Arkansas hills, as MAYA, an Arab dancing girl, appearing in LES SHIKHORS' famous revue, BOB TOWLEY and the other rich men with whom the revue girls play have begun to seem as if they were not so much interested in the girls as they were in the money they could make out of them. That night GERTA NARON, a revue girl, was seen in a house party on Long Island, but he displayed no particular interest in her. That night GERTA NARON, a revue girl, was seen in a house party on Long Island, but he displayed no particular interest in her. That night GERTA NARON, a revue girl, was seen in a house party on Long Island, but he displayed no particular interest in her.

CHAPTER X.
Pajamas and Cream, Bacon and Eggs.

THE next day was Sunday April was awakened, however, not by church bells but by a germotion in the hall outside her door, muffled laughter and whispers. Suddenly the door flew open and into her room tumbled Gerta, Jack Hedges and Bob Towley, the former in filmy white negligee that scarcely concealed the gown beneath it, the latter in silk pajamas and dressing gowns.

"Sleepy head, hop out of bed," they chanted, and advanced as if to assist her.

April pulled the covers up around her chin and stared at them, too amazed to be shocked.

"But I'm not dressed!"

"Dearie, we didn't think you went to bed with your clothes on," Gerta said. "Hop out, and into a negligee. We'll give you just two minutes, and then we'll pull you out. The rest of us are just dying for breakfast!"

April sat up, still awestruck in slithering covers.

"Then Jack and Bob have to get out of this room. I won't get up while they're here. Not if I die first!"

Gerta appealed to them with a dramatic gesture. "Picture of a lady who appears twice a day before 1,500 people dressed in a piece of fringe and a bead, refusing to appear in a perfectly decent respectable nightgown before a small party of three friends. Inconsistency, my name is modesty!"

But April's distress was so evident that Jack and Bob retired while April threw on a gold satin breakfast jacket and fluffed up the waves of her brown hair with a comb.

With her hair reinforced, the party went on to Thurston's door and burst in on him in the same unceremonious fashion. He was awake, and lay comfortably on the pillows, regarding them quizzically. With his black hair tumbled on the pillow, his brown throat exposed by the jacket of pajamas, he looked very boyish, April thought.

"Pajamas and cream, bacon and eggs," Gerta announced to him. "Pajamas and cream, bacon and eggs," Gerta announced to him. "Pajamas and cream, bacon and eggs," Gerta announced to him.

"He lay still for a minute, laughing up at them, and then with a single unexpected bound threw the covers off, was out of bed and into a dressing gown that he wore on a nearby chair, rumpling his hair still further with one motion of his hand, seized Gerta by the arm and dragged her off toward the breakfast room."

April followed with Bob, a little cold feeling plucking at her heart. Her strong, unhappy man looked cheerful enough this morning, and could apparently be as foolish as any of the men.

As they were coming down the stairs, there was a heavy pounding on the front door and the butler hurried to open it. More guests poured in, calling hilarious greetings when they saw the attire of the host and his earlier guests. One of the remarks made April blush, but Gerta Naron was disturbed not at all, and returned them in kind.

Bob surveyed the new arrivals critically, noting their smart costumes.

"Can we let them eat breakfast dressed like that, Gerta? I don't think it would be decent to do so," he suggested, that those who were so unfortunate as to come without nighties will have to put on bathing suits before they can join us at the festive board. What say?"

The others agreed with a shout and impassive faced servants were sent to procure extra bath suits and towels for the new guests into upstairs rooms where they might change, while Gerta supervised the proceedings. April watched her curiously, full of things Gerta had told her the night before. If the lovely blonde felt that men were her natural enemies, certainly she showed no signs of it this morning! She had kissed several of the new men, and was darting hither and thither, in and out of the bedrooms, calling out sassy remarks to each other with such evident familiarity that she felt out of an angle!

Presently the party was assembled in the beautiful, sunny breakfast room with its three sides of casement windows, hung with flowers and vines, its floor of green tile, its bright colored curtains and chairs. The colorful bathing suits were well adapted to the setting, and the girls looked like young goddesses. Several luminaries of the stage world were there, as well as a sprinkling of the more famous chorus beauties. Some of them April knew, most of them she did not. But they called out funny or taunting remarks to each other with such evident familiarity that she felt out of an angle!

The men were for the most part middle-aged playboys whom she had come to expect to find as escorts for stage beauties, although there were a few youths among them. The former were men of position and substance, eating the desires of a thwarted boyhood. The latter were the sons of rich men, and April, observing them, thought she had never seen such beautiful specimens physically. But it was the older men who acted the queerest. A long sideboard was covered with dishes of china and silver, each with its delicious contents, the butter and a footman in waiting to serve as solemnly as if this were the most formal dinner. But before they attacked the array of viands, the guests gathered around another table that was hidden by bottles, glasses and silver. After a short session here the party became much noisier, and several of the guests were singing different tunes and in different keys, when at last they came to the task of deciding whether they would have the kidneys or the sweetbreads, and when of several delicious varieties of hot bread they would choose.

"Inconsistency, thy name is modesty!"

April had been a spectator thus far in the proceedings, and so, too, she noted had Thurston. He was watching with a curious, one-sided smile that quality with which he had watched the dancers that night in the cabaret. But his eyes were amused and kindly. He did not look toward April.

Archie Guiding did, however. Archie was one of the guests of the party, a tall, beautifully formed lad, with a mane of blond hair, his face just a little flushed with drinking.

"Now let me see what I shall talk about," he said, considering, his lips curved in a charming smile, that he had brought to the party a new and warm and friendly and entertaining.

April was smiling too. She had forgotten everything except that she and Archie had been sitting on the sand in the warm sun, caressed by a fragrant breeze, the glittering pagoda of the ocean before them, the boom of the waves serving as a steady accompaniment to their thoughts. Her dream had come true.

And then, before Thurston could speak, Bob was back again pulling Gerta behind him.

"We old settlers are going to hold a vote now to decide what's next on the program," Bob announced. "It is to be violent exercise, on the golf and tennis fields, or shall we dance some more or play cards?"

"What time's dinner?" Thurston asked.

"Eight o'clock, and there are some more people coming out from town for it. It is now 3:30. These people will be getting enough of the bathing pretty soon, and if we don't plan something to heat them off they'll be crooked inside of an hour, which would be distinctly unfair to the people who are coming later. I hope you all realize the full seriousness of the situation."

"Since this is perhaps our one day in the country this summer," April voted, "we should spend it outdoors. Let us have an Arab camp on the sand, and if you like I will tell fortunes while those who wish may play those what you call it—gold and tennis."

"An Arab camp! That's a jolly idea. We'll have tents and a sheik and a camel. We've got here and tell us where you keep your camels!"

Thurston did not dance at all but sat on the railing of the veranda, sometimes looking at the laughing, shouting dancers in their bizarre costumes, sometimes looking out over the beautiful velvety lawns with their trim, majestic trees, through which showed the blue waters of the ocean.

Archie was showing April something new in dancing, the polkaette way, he assured her. Archie was a splendid dancer, and he found April a partner to dream of. The others began watching this tribute, but they had never seen it paid before. They danced on and on, Archie's eyes half closed, his tanned cheek pressed against her golden one.

It was Bob who finally stopped them. Bob saying in a somewhat thickened voice, "Let's swim!" So those who were still in bathing suits and slippers went to the swimming pool, and the others ran across the grass toward the water.

As soon as April came out of her room, Bob claimed her and stayed beside her all the time they were in the water. Archie philosophically devoted himself again to the Scheherazade who showed no acrobacy at his recent desertion—Archie was too rich for that.

Finally April tired of the sport and sat curled up on her cape with one hand over her eyes, to shut out the sun. A shadow fell across her and she peered through her fingers to see who it was. Thurston stood over her, looking down with a one-sided, cynical smile.

"I have been neglecting my duty as a guide through the breakers," he said. "May I atone now for my delinquency?"

"You think I need a guide through the breakers?" she said lightly. "Thank you! But I think I have had enough of the breakers for today. Only don't let me keep you. There may be others who would welcome instruction."

"My contract was only with you," he replied. "So if you won't go in the water, may I sit on the burning sands with you?"

She made room for him on the cape, and for a time they sat, saying nothing. Presently April began to laugh. "Meister Thurston, do you know you are the first man I have met in America who did not talk, talk, talk to me?" She exaggerated the complaint very much, so that the effect was of a parrot's speech.

"Under the circumstances," April said, "maybe we had each better talk a little. But you begin, because you see I do not know your language so very well."

"Now let me see what I shall talk about," he said, considering, his lips curved in a charming smile, that he had brought to the party a new and warm and friendly and entertaining.

April was smiling too. She had forgotten everything except that she and Archie had been sitting on the sand in the warm sun, caressed by a fragrant breeze, the glittering pagoda of the ocean before them, the boom of the waves serving as a steady accompaniment to their thoughts. Her dream had come true.

And then, before Thurston could speak, Bob was back again pulling Gerta behind him.

"We old settlers are going to hold a vote now to decide what's next on the program," Bob announced. "It is to be violent exercise, on the golf and tennis fields, or shall we dance some more or play cards?"

"What time's dinner?" Thurston asked.

"Eight o'clock, and there are some more people coming out from town for it. It is now 3:30. These people will be getting enough of the bathing pretty soon, and if we don't plan something to heat them off they'll be crooked inside of an hour, which would be distinctly unfair to the people who are coming later. I hope you all realize the full seriousness of the situation."

"Since this is perhaps our one day in the country this summer," April voted, "we should spend it outdoors. Let us have an Arab camp on the sand, and if you like I will tell fortunes while those who wish may play those what you call it—gold and tennis."

"An Arab camp! That's a jolly idea. We'll have tents and a sheik and a camel. We've got here and tell us where you keep your camels!"

Thurston did not dance at all but sat on the railing of the veranda, sometimes looking at the laughing, shouting dancers in their bizarre costumes, sometimes looking out over the beautiful velvety lawns with their trim, majestic trees, through which showed the blue waters of the ocean.

Archie was showing April something new in dancing, the polkaette way, he assured her. Archie was a splendid dancer, and he found April a partner to dream of. The others began watching this tribute, but they had never seen it paid before. They danced on and on, Archie's eyes half closed, his tanned cheek pressed against her golden one.

It was Bob who finally stopped them. Bob saying in a somewhat thickened voice, "Let's swim!" So those who were still in bathing suits and slippers went to the swimming pool, and the others ran across the grass toward the water.

As soon as April came out of her room, Bob claimed her and stayed beside her all the time they were in the water. Archie philosophically devoted himself again to the Scheherazade who showed no acrobacy at his recent desertion—Archie was too rich for that.

Finally April tired of the sport and sat curled up on her cape with one hand over her eyes, to shut out the sun. A shadow fell across her and she peered through her fingers to see who it was. Thurston stood over her, looking down with a one-sided, cynical smile.

"I have been neglecting my duty as a guide through the breakers," he said. "May I atone now for my delinquency?"

"You think I need a guide through the breakers?" she said lightly. "Thank you! But I think I have had enough of the breakers for today. Only don't let me keep you. There may be others who would welcome instruction."

"My contract was only with you," he replied. "So if you won't go in the water, may I sit on the burning sands with you?"

She made room for him on the cape, and for a time they sat, saying nothing. Presently April began to laugh. "Meister Thurston, do you know you are the first man I have met in America who did not talk, talk, talk to me?" She exaggerated the complaint very much, so that the effect was of a parrot's speech.

"Under the circumstances," April said, "maybe we had each better talk a little. But you begin, because you see I do not know your language so very well."

"Now let me see what I shall talk about," he said, considering, his lips curved in a charming smile, that he had brought to the party a new and warm and friendly and entertaining.

April was smiling too. She had forgotten everything except that she and Archie had been sitting on the sand in the warm sun, caressed by a fragrant breeze, the glittering pagoda of the ocean before them, the boom of the waves serving as a steady accompaniment to their thoughts. Her dream had come true.

And then, before Thurston could speak, Bob was back again pulling Gerta behind him.

"We old settlers are going to hold a vote now to decide what's next on the program," Bob announced. "It is to be violent exercise, on the golf and tennis fields, or shall we dance some more or play cards?"

"What time's dinner?" Thurston asked.

Conduct and Common Sense

By ANNE SINGLETON.

THE BRIDE'S FAMILY SEND INVITATIONS.

DEAR Miss Singleton: Is it proper to send wedding invitations when only relatives of the bride and groom are to be present? My fiancée and his people live in another city. Could I have him invite them, or do you advise more formality?

A R.

The delay in answering is due to delay in receiving the letter and getting it into the columns. I am sorry it is too late to tell A. R. that either she or her mother should write to the members of the bridegroom's family after the wedding. It is not a question of formality, but of civility. You don't go to one person's house and then the invitation of another (even the bridegroom) on such an intimate occasion as a small wedding.

If you had a brother who was marrying a girl in another town, you would think it more polite if his family asked you to attend the wedding, no matter how informal it was, than if they just told your brother to go to one person's house and then the invitation of another (even the bridegroom) on such an intimate occasion as a small wedding.

Under the circumstances, April said, "maybe we had each better talk a little. But you begin, because you see I do not know your language so very well."

"Now let me see what I shall talk about," he said, considering, his lips curved in a charming smile, that he had brought to the party a new and warm and friendly and entertaining.

April was smiling too. She had forgotten everything except that she and Archie had been sitting on the sand in the warm sun, caressed by a fragrant breeze, the glittering pagoda of the ocean before them, the boom of the waves serving as a steady accompaniment to their thoughts. Her dream had come true.

And then, before Thurston could speak, Bob was back again pulling Gerta behind him.

"We old settlers are going to hold a vote now to decide what's next on the program," Bob announced. "It is to be violent exercise, on the golf and tennis fields, or shall we dance some more or play cards?"

"What time's dinner?" Thurston asked.

"Eight o'clock, and there are some more people coming out from town for it. It is now 3:30. These people will be getting enough of the bathing pretty soon, and if we don't plan something to heat them off they'll be crooked inside of an hour, which would be distinctly unfair to the people who are coming later. I hope you all realize the full seriousness of the situation."

"Since this is perhaps our one day in the country this summer," April voted, "we should spend it outdoors. Let us have an Arab camp on the sand, and if you like I will tell fortunes while those who wish may play those what you call it—gold and tennis."

"An Arab camp! That's a jolly idea. We'll have tents and a sheik and a camel. We've got here and tell us where you keep your camels!"

Thurston did not dance at all but sat on the railing of the veranda, sometimes looking at the laughing, shouting dancers in their bizarre costumes, sometimes looking out over the beautiful velvety lawns with their trim, majestic trees, through which showed the blue waters of the ocean.

Archie was showing April something new in dancing, the polkaette way, he assured her. Archie was a splendid dancer, and he found April a partner to dream of. The others began watching this tribute, but they had never seen it paid before. They danced on and on, Archie's eyes half closed, his tanned cheek pressed against her golden one.

It was Bob who finally stopped them. Bob saying in a somewhat thickened voice, "Let's swim!" So those who were still in bathing suits and slippers went to the swimming pool, and the others ran across the grass toward the water.

As soon as April came out of her room, Bob claimed her and stayed beside her all the time they were in the water. Archie philosophically devoted himself again to the Scheherazade who showed no acrobacy at his recent desertion—Archie was too rich for that.

Finally April tired of the sport and sat curled up on her cape with one hand over her eyes, to shut out the sun. A shadow fell across her and she peered through her fingers to see who it was. Thurston stood over her, looking down with a one-sided, cynical smile.

"I have been neglecting my duty as a guide through the breakers," he said. "May I atone now for my delinquency?"

"You think I need a guide through the breakers?" she said lightly. "Thank you! But I think I have had enough of the breakers for today. Only don't let me keep you. There may be others who would welcome instruction."

"My contract was only with you," he replied. "So if you won't go in the water, may I sit on the burning sands with you?"

She made room for him on the cape, and for a time they sat, saying nothing. Presently April began to laugh. "Meister Thurston, do you know you are the first man I have met in America who did not talk, talk, talk to me?" She exaggerated the complaint very much, so that the effect was of a parrot's speech.

"Under the circumstances," April said, "maybe we had each better talk a little. But you begin, because you see I do not know your language so very well."

"Now let me see what I shall talk about," he said, considering, his lips curved in a charming smile, that he had brought to the party a new and warm and friendly and entertaining.

April was smiling too. She had forgotten everything except that she and Archie had been sitting on the sand in the warm sun, caressed by a fragrant breeze, the glittering pagoda of the ocean before them, the boom of the waves serving as a steady accompaniment to their thoughts. Her dream had come true.

And then, before Thurston could speak, Bob was back again pulling Gerta behind him.

"We old settlers are going to hold a vote now to decide what's next on the program," Bob announced. "It is to be violent exercise, on the golf and tennis fields, or shall we dance some more or play cards?"

"What time's dinner?" Thurston asked.

"Eight o'clock, and there are some more people coming out from town for it. It is now 3:30. These people will be getting enough of the bathing pretty soon, and if we don't plan something to heat them off they'll be crooked inside of an hour, which would be distinctly unfair to the people who are coming later. I hope you all realize the full seriousness of the situation."

"Since this is perhaps our one day in the country this summer," April voted, "we should spend it outdoors. Let us have an Arab camp on the sand, and if you like I will tell fortunes while those who wish may play those what you call it—gold and tennis."

"An Arab camp! That's a jolly idea. We'll have tents and a sheik and a camel. We've got here and tell us where you keep your camels!"

Thurston did not dance at all but sat on the railing of the veranda, sometimes looking at the laughing, shouting dancers in their bizarre costumes, sometimes looking out over the beautiful velvety lawns with their trim, majestic trees, through which showed the blue waters of the ocean.

Archie was showing April something new in dancing, the polkaette way, he assured her. Archie was a splendid dancer, and he found April a partner to dream of. The others began watching this tribute, but they had never seen it paid before. They danced on and on, Archie's eyes half closed, his tanned cheek pressed against her golden one.

It was Bob who finally stopped them. Bob saying in a somewhat thickened voice, "Let's swim!" So those who were still in bathing suits and slippers went to the swimming pool, and the others ran across the grass toward the water.

As soon as April came out of her room, Bob claimed her and stayed beside her all the time they were in the water. Archie philosophically devoted himself again to the Scheherazade who showed no acrobacy at his recent desertion—Archie was too rich for that.

Finally April tired of the sport and sat curled up on her cape with one hand over her eyes, to shut out the sun. A shadow fell across her and she peered through her fingers to see who it was. Thurston stood over her, looking down with a one-sided, cynical smile.

"I have been neglecting my duty as a guide through the breakers," he said. "May I atone now for my delinquency?"

"You think I need a guide through the breakers?" she said lightly. "Thank you! But I think I have had enough of the breakers for today. Only don't let me keep you. There may be others who would welcome instruction."

"My contract was only with you," he replied. "So if you won't go in the water, may I sit on the burning sands with you?"

She made room for him on the cape, and for a time they sat, saying nothing. Presently April began to laugh. "Meister Thurston, do you know you are the first man I have met in America who did not talk, talk, talk to me?" She exaggerated the complaint very much, so that the effect was of a parrot's speech.

"Under the circumstances," April said, "maybe we had each better talk a little. But you begin, because you see I do not know your language so very well."

"Now let me see what I shall talk about," he said, considering, his lips curved in a charming smile, that he had brought to the party a new and warm and friendly and entertaining.

April was smiling too. She had forgotten everything except that she and Archie had been sitting on the sand in the warm sun, caressed by a fragrant breeze, the glittering pagoda of the ocean before them, the boom of the waves serving as a steady accompaniment to their thoughts. Her dream had come true.

And then, before Thurston could speak, Bob was back again pulling Gerta behind him.

"We old settlers are going to hold a vote now to decide what's next on the program," Bob announced. "It is to be violent exercise, on the golf and tennis fields, or shall we dance some more or play cards?"

"What time's dinner?" Thurston asked.

"Eight o'clock, and there are some more people coming out from town for it. It is now 3:30. These people will be getting enough of the bathing pretty soon, and if we don't plan something to heat them off they'll be crooked inside of an hour, which would be distinctly unfair to the people who are coming later. I hope you all realize the full seriousness of the situation."

"Since this is perhaps our one day in the country this summer," April voted, "we should spend it outdoors. Let us have an Arab camp on the sand, and if you like I will tell fortunes while those who wish may play those what you call it—gold and tennis."

"An Arab camp! That's a jolly idea. We'll have tents and a sheik and a camel. We've got here and tell us where you keep your camels!"

Thurston did not dance at all but sat on the railing of the veranda, sometimes looking at the laughing, shouting dancers in their bizarre costumes, sometimes looking out over the beautiful velvety lawns with their trim, majestic trees, through which showed the blue waters of the ocean.

Archie was showing April something new in dancing, the polkaette way, he assured her. Archie was a splendid dancer, and he found April a partner to dream of. The others began watching this tribute, but they had never seen it paid before. They danced on and on, Archie's eyes half closed, his tanned cheek pressed against her golden one.

It was Bob who finally stopped them. Bob saying in a somewhat thickened voice, "Let's swim!" So those who were still in bathing suits and slippers went to the swimming pool, and the others ran across the grass toward the water.

As soon as April came out of her room, Bob claimed her and stayed beside her all the time they were in the water. Archie philosophically devoted himself again to the Scheherazade who showed no acrobacy at his recent desertion—Archie was too rich for that.

Finally April tired of the sport and sat curled up on her cape with one hand over her eyes, to shut out the sun. A shadow fell across her and she peered through her fingers to see who it was. Thurston stood over her, looking down with a one-sided, cynical smile.

"I have been neglecting my duty as a guide through the breakers," he said. "May I atone now for my delinquency?"

BEAUTY AND YOU

By VIOLA PARIS.

THE IMPORTANCE OF RELAXATION.

MANY women, and men as well, who are bent on building up their bodies with special diets and programs of exercises overlook the fact that frequent relaxation is of the utmost importance.

The girl who is thin and long for the smooth sweep of well-rounded lines is too apt to ignore the fact that worry, insufficient or incomplete rest, tense and frayed nerves will make it an absolute impossibility to attain the physical tone and consequent beauty of form and skin texture for which she yearns.

It is difficult to think of anything that is more truly luxurious than a brief period of relaxation. Complete relaxation, especially to the woman of high-strung temperament, is not easy of accomplishment. It is not complete unless both mind and body are involved. Yet every one who has an inclination to worry and fret and who has a tendency toward incessant activity the day through, can, with persistence, learn to relax completely.

Relaxation is a deliberate lifting from body and mind of the burden and strain of the day's occupation. Striving muscles, tendons, nerves are allowed to let go for a little; the eager, harassed mind is made to dwell on happy, restful, even indolent things. It is not easy. But it may be easy with practice. I recommend the following as being especially helpful so far as body relaxation is concerned.

1. Stand with feet wide apart, arms hanging loosely at the sides. Bend the right knee a little, throw the weight on the right foot and stretch the left leg. Let the body droop over to the right, with muscles relaxed and roll the trunk around in a circle. Repeat with the weight on the left leg. During the exercise, the arms should hang limp and the head should roll on the relaxed neck muscles.

2. Stand erect. Slowly relax the muscles until the body crumples up on the floor or couch. Stretch out at full length, close the eyes and take a few slow, deep breaths.

Each individual will discover his or her own means of attaining the complete relaxation of which I speak, and will find it worth ten times all the persistence it took.

(Copyright, 1928.)

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS.

To the limit of space, questions pertinent to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Persons replying should state to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual cases.

FLUES ON STOVES AID TO GOOD HEALTH

ONE of the next great drives made in the name of health must be to get flues on stoves, in the opinion of Prof. S. E. Dibble, of the Carnegie Institute. He says the improvement in public health which everybody knows about is largely owing to the fact that 90 per cent of the stomach. We no longer drink polluted water. We spend millions on water longer drink poison milk. We build pasteurizing plants, bottle the product and consume it fresh, cold and clean. A food factory is now a show place. Even great slaughterhouses no longer need to be apologized for. All down the list we protect what goes into the stomach.

Not so with what goes into the lungs, says Prof. Dibble. He is quoted by the New England Medical Journal as saying that 90 per cent of the housewives are being gassed in their homes by carbon monoxide. This is because the ordinary gas cooking stove, the ordinary hot water heater, the burners used to take the chill from the air of the bathroom, the nursery and the sitting room are without flues.

He does not mean that these housewives suffer unconsciousness or any of the other alarmingly toxic effects of massive temporary dose with carbon monoxide. He has reference to remonoxide. He has reference to peated headaches and pains, and feeling of inertia, to pall

WASHINGTON: MONDAY, JULY 16, 1928.

BROWNS RALLY IN TWELFTH, BEAT NATIONALS, 6-4

Mitchell Plays Considine In Net Final

Public Parks Champ and 1927 Runner-Up Survive Tourney.

By CHARLES A. WATSON.
DOOLEY MITCHELL, defending champion in the Washington public parks tennis tournament, and Bob Considine, runner-up in 1927, again will meet in the finals of the event this year by virtue of their victories in the semifinal round yesterday on the Rock Creek courts. Mitchell eliminated Larry Phillips in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5, while Considine defeated Maurice V. O'Neil, a former titleholder, 6-3, 7-5. The final match will be played next Sunday.

The largest crowd to witness a court match here this season braved the boiling sun and rained the courts. The sloping bank leading to the reservoir overlooking the courts was a mass of humanity. During the Mitchell-Phillips match spectators crowded the sidelines and it was with some difficulty the play progressed.

Considine had but little trouble disposing of O'Neil in straight sets, although the second set was bitterly contested and produced some brilliant tennis on the part of the youthful Considine after he had lost four out of the first five games. Recovering on his service at the beginning of the eighth game, he breezed through four fast games to victory.

Larry Phillips, employing a half lob, went down to defeat under the

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 8

Voigt-Held Break Even With Farrell-Sarazen

Douglaston, N. Y., July 15 (A.P.). Johnny Farrell, of Manaroneck, N. Y., national open champion, and Gene Sarazen, of the Fresh Meadow Club, Flushing, N. Y., finished all-even with two amateur stars, George Voigt, of North Hills, the North and South amateur champion, and Eddie Held, of Lakeville, in an 18-hole exhibition match today.

The first nine holes were evenly contested, with both sides having a best ball of 33, two under par. At the turn, the match was even. The amateurs won the eleventh with a birdie 4, but Farrell evened the count by winning the fourteenth with another birdie and put the professionals one up by winning the sixteenth.

The seventeenth was halved, but Held squared the match on the last hole by shooting another birdie 4.

For the last nine both sides had a best ball of 34, giving each a 67 total.

Emmett Pare Reaches Tri-State Net Finals

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 15 (A.P.).—Marjorie (Midge) Gladman, 19-year-old national girls' tennis champion of Santa Monica, added the tri-State women's singles title to her string of victories today by defeating Clara Louise Zinke, of Cincinnati, 6-4, 6-4.

Emmett Pare, Chicago, won his way to the finals in a hard battle with Paul Kunkle, of Cincinnati, 4-6, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. Kunkle unleashed a terrific game in the first two sets.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 8

District Pros Tie British Golfers

Boomer's Shot on 18th Halves Duffenbaugh and Hunter.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.
J. Monro Hunter and George Duffenbaugh, professional and assistant professional at the Indian Spring Club, yesterday played Archie Compton and Aubrey Boomer, two famous British golfers, to a standstill in an 18-hole match on the Indian Spring course, the contest ended all even on the final green.

There should have been a different spring course, the contest ended all 1 up and on the eighteenth tee and needed only a half on the home hole to give them the match. Both, however, took three strokes from off the edge of the green before they holed out in 68, while Boomer, who was on the green with a lie and an iron, took two putts for the par 4 which squared the match.

A gallery of 2,000 golfers followed the quartet throughout the eighteen holes and saw a fine exhibition of the game. There was plenty of glory, also, for the Indian Spring members, for at no time during the bitterly contested battle were the visitors in the lead.

More than this, Hunter on every hole, without exception, out-drove all the players in the foursome, out-distanced even the long-hitting Compton. Nor is this the

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 4

Strife in Camp of Heeney As Managers Near Crisis; Tunney Now Overtrained

By JACK FARRELL.
Special to The Washington Post.

FAIR HAVEN, N. J., July 15.—An international crisis has arisen in the training camp of Tom Heeney. Ever since the New Zealand boxer, who was named to fight Gene Tunney for the world's heavyweight title on July 26 there has been a question and some argument as to who is really Tom's manager.

Charlie Harvey, of New York, claims he is who collects one-third of the $100,000 guarantee Heeney will receive for fighting Tunney. John Mortimer, of London, says that when the managerial ante is extracted, he will be there with a surgeon's scalpel and Harvey can have whatever is left over. He minces no words about that, either. The mixed managerial arrangement has been on since the night Heeney blighted the title hopes of Jack Sharkey. Until today, the involved parties have done their warring in private, but today they have decided to reveal the fact that they are fairly on at one another's windpipes. It is now common gossip around the camp that the pair have arrived at the parting of the ways.

Both Harvey and Mortimer have denied they are at loggerheads, but they no longer speak to each other. Jimmy Heeney, Harvey's hired man, is in absolute control of Heeney's training activities. Mortimer has assumed the role of the innocent bystander and thus far has not been asked to intervene.

Whatever statements are made in Heeney's behalf are issued by either Mortimer or Harvey, depending on who is around. Mortimer is never consulted in any matter relating to Eddie Harvey, Charlie's brother. He collects and pockets all the money taken in at the rate and is accountable to nobody but his older brother.

Thus far Heeney has refused to take sides in the argument. He knows what is going on but is maintaining a dignified silence. Were he to voice his views, however, he probably would say he doesn't care who gets what, but he is going to get as much as he can for himself.

Each of the warring managers holds a separate contract with Heeney. Harvey has one on file with the New York State Athletic Commission, which runs for two years and entitles him to 33 1/3 per cent of whatever money the champion earns while Mortimer's contract, which calls for 25 per cent of Heeney's earnings.

Harvey and John Mortimer attempted to negotiate a private contract between them which would have given each an equal share of Heeney's earnings, but the deal fell through.

Heeney is said to be dissatisfied with the manner in which the Mortimer boys are running the main affairs and he is planning to cut the Mortimer boys adrift and sign up with his American representative for the rest of his pugilistic career when Harvey's present contract expires.

Harvey was snooping around Tex Rickard's office much of last week trying to get Tex to give him Heeney's assistance in advance of the main event and he is making a dignified silence. Were he to voice his views, however, he probably would say he doesn't care who gets what, but he is going to get as much as he can for himself.

Several hundred fans visited the camp this afternoon in hopes of seeing the challenger stripped for action. The best they saw was a peek at the layout. Tom ducked off to a clam bake shortly after noon and did not return until it was too late for him to prepare for his night workout.

McMahon announced that the preliminary bouts on the championship card would consist of four six-round bouts and two four-round bouts. He said that Pierre Charles, of Belgium, and Johnnie Grosso, of Mount Vernon, would meet in the semifinal bout, while the Indians, Warren, and Lou Fink, his trainer, is seldom impressive in training and, as often as not, appears as crude as an amateur when he is really experimenting with his boxing craft.

A crowd of 1,500 persons, the largest which has assembled in this training enclosure, paid 50 cents a head to watch Tunney in his first Sunday workout. The proceeds went to the benefit of the St. James' church at Lake Pleasant, where Tunney heard mass this morning. He gave up road work to attend the services.

Tunney opened the show by punching the head and body bags and then going three rounds each with Mays and Billy Vidabek. Mays made the champion work hard, but he appeared to be devoting more of his attention to his foot work, which was fast, than he was to slugging Vidabek.

It is no secret that Rickard hopes that Heeney will be the victor in the fight with Tunney. He has been frankly discussing his future plans for the New Zealand, a bout with Dempsey and a fight with the champion, and then another in London, provided that Heeney disposed of Tunney.

Rickard's eyes gleamed as he outlined his dreams. He was unable to give any positive information on how Heeney would handle such a proposition. The promoter said that Heeney as a champion would be a great drawing card and that he believed that England in that event would be stirred that a title bout in or about London would be a sound business proposition.

McMahon announced that the preliminary bouts on the championship card would consist of four six-round bouts and two four-round bouts. He said that Pierre Charles, of Belgium, and Johnnie Grosso, of Mount Vernon, would meet in the semifinal bout, while the Indians, Warren, and Lou Fink, his trainer, is seldom impressive in training and, as often as not, appears as crude as an amateur when he is really experimenting with his boxing craft.

Warren came to Speculator to spar with Tunney prior to his scheduled bout with the champion. He was not sparring partners would be allowed on the championship card prevented him from training on the gloves with the champion.

During the day Rickard and his assistants eagerly told one and all in Speculator that the fight tickets were selling briskly, the ring-side seats especially. The promoter and his party returned to New York tonight.

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—The Chicago Nationals won their sixth consecutive game today when they beat Philadelphia, 6 to 3. It was the Cubs' third straight win over the Phils.

The game opened turbulently for both sides, but the Cubs took the lead in the first four innings, but their teammates kept him out of serious trouble. After that he tightened up and held out until the ninth inning, when he threatened by filling the bases with none out, but they retired with only two runs.

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—The Chicago Nationals won their sixth consecutive game today when they beat Philadelphia, 6 to 3. It was the Cubs' third straight win over the Phils.

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—The Chicago Nationals won their sixth consecutive game today when they beat Philadelphia, 6 to 3. It was the Cubs' third straight win over the Phils.

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—The Chicago Nationals won their sixth consecutive game today when they beat Philadelphia, 6 to 3. It was the Cubs' third straight win over the Phils.

Olympic Body Denies Four Protests

Bars Door to Baskin, McGrath, Locke and Jackson.

Opinion Divided as to Elkins—Wrestler Is Injured.

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, en route to Amsterdam, July 15 (A.P.).—The Olympic track and field team door definitely was closed today to four of the five athletes proposed for admission by the New York A. C., but the latch still is out for Fatt (Chief) Elkins, decathlon star, pending further information as to his condition.

After a meeting today, at which the cases of Matt McGrath, veteran hammer thrower; Weems Baskin, hurdler; Roland Locke, sprinter; and Norton Jackson, wrestler, were carefully considered, Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chairman of the Olympic committee, announced that the request of William Kennedy, president of the New York A. C., asking that these men, along with Elkins, be placed on the team, which was turned down. As far as these four were concerned, MacArthur said, the final team selections, in which they did not figure, would stand.

This decision was sent by telegram to Kennedy by MacArthur in these words: "Selection committee, as well as Olympic officials, have considered cases of Baskin, Locke, Jackson and McGrath and voted unanimously to reaffirm action taken previously in these cases. The committee feels they were beaten in fair, open competition by those who now compose the team."

There is sharply divided opinion with respect to Elkins. Some feel that if the former University of Nebraska star, who has recovered from the injury he sustained in the final Olympic decathlon tryouts at Philadelphia, he should be selected. Others, including Head Coach Henson of the University of California, do not believe the Indians

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 8

34 for Ruth as Yanks Twice Down Indians

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—The Yankees defeated Cleveland in both games of today's double-header, 3 to 0 and 6 to 4. Miles Thomas made his first start in the second game and got credit for the victory though Hoyt Hershiser pitched.

Babe Ruth rapped out his thirty-fourth home run in the first inning of the second game with Koenig on base, while Lou Gehrig connected for a nineteenth in the fifth with none on.

The Yankees piled up a lead of five runs in the first two innings of the second game and then pulled them through. Cleveland's rally in the eighth, topped off by Joe Sewell's homer, shot Thomas to the showers and gave the Indians the last of three runs in that inning.

In the first game Pennock ran his recordless scoreless inning to 26, his longest since having been shutouts. It was Herb's thirteenth victory.

Ruth's sacrifice fly scored Combs with the Yankees' first run in the first game, while Pennock's single drove in two in the sixth.

Cleveland, AB H O A New York, AB H O A
Jameson, 4 1 1 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
L. Sewell, 3 1 2 1 Totals, 29 27 12

Totals, 33 27 11
"Koenig out by hit batted ball."
Cleveland, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
New York, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Runs—Combs, Meusel, Dugan, Pennock (2). Two-base hit—Dugan, Sacrifice—Dugan, Combs, Burns, Sacrifice—Koenig to Dugan, Gehrig, Burns to J. Sewell. Left on base—New York, 10; Cleveland, 10. Struck out—By Pennock, 2; by Sewell, 1. Sacrifices—New York, 3; Cleveland, 2.

SECOND GAME.
Cleveland, AB H O A New York, AB H O A
Jameson, 4 1 1 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
L. Sewell, 3 1 2 1 Totals, 33 27 12

Totals, 33 27 11
"Koenig out by hit batted ball."
Cleveland, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
New York, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Runs—Combs, Meusel, Dugan, Pennock (2). Two-base hit—Dugan, Sacrifice—Dugan, Combs, Burns, Sacrifice—Koenig to Dugan, Gehrig, Burns to J. Sewell. Left on base—New York, 10; Cleveland, 10. Struck out—By Pennock, 2; by Sewell, 1. Sacrifices—New York, 3; Cleveland, 2.

THIRD GAME.
Cleveland, AB H O A New York, AB H O A
Jameson, 4 1 1 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
L. Sewell, 3 1 2 1 Totals, 33 27 12

Totals, 33 27 11
"Koenig out by hit batted ball."
Cleveland, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
New York, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Runs—Combs, Meusel, Dugan, Pennock (2). Two-base hit—Dugan, Sacrifice—Dugan, Combs, Burns, Sacrifice—Koenig to Dugan, Gehrig, Burns to J. Sewell. Left on base—New York, 10; Cleveland, 10. Struck out—By Pennock, 2; by Sewell, 1. Sacrifices—New York, 3; Cleveland, 2.

FOURTH GAME.
Cleveland, AB H O A New York, AB H O A
Jameson, 4 1 1 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
L. Sewell, 3 1 2 1 Totals, 33 27 12

Totals, 33 27 11
"Koenig out by hit batted ball."
Cleveland, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
New York, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Runs—Combs, Meusel, Dugan, Pennock (2). Two-base hit—Dugan, Sacrifice—Dugan, Combs, Burns, Sacrifice—Koenig to Dugan, Gehrig, Burns to J. Sewell. Left on base—New York, 10; Cleveland, 10. Struck out—By Pennock, 2; by Sewell, 1. Sacrifices—New York, 3; Cleveland, 2.

FIFTH GAME.
Cleveland, AB H O A New York, AB H O A
Jameson, 4 1 1 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Lind, 2 0 0 0 Koenig, 3 2 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Moran, 1 0 0 0 Gehrig, 1 0 0 0
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Burns, 1 0 0 0 Dugan, 3 4 1 1 3
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
Sumner, 2 0 0 0 Pennock, 3 1 0 1
L. Sewell, 3 1 2 1 Totals, 33 27 12

Totals, 33 27 11
"Koenig out by hit batted ball."
Cleveland, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
New York, 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Runs—Combs, Meusel, Dugan, Pennock (2). Two-base hit—Dugan, Sacrifice—Dugan, Combs, Burns, Sacrifice—Koenig to Dugan, Gehrig, Burns to J. Sewell. Left on base—New York, 10; Cleveland, 10. Struck out—By Pennock, 2; by Sewell, 1. Sacrifices—New York, 3; Cleveland, 2.

Six in Row for Cubs As Phillies Bow, 6-3
Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—The Chicago Nationals won their sixth consecutive game today when they beat Philadelphia, 6 to 3. It was the Cubs' third straight win over the Phils.

NO PUNCH IN PINCHES

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

ST. LOUIS, July 15 (A.P.).—The Browns won their seventh consecutive game today when they beat the Nationals, 6 to 4. The Browns' victory was aided by a pinch-hitting performance by Eddie Collins, who hit a home run in the eighth inning.

Harris' Error Figures in Defeat

Blaeholder Is Puzzle; 3 on, None Out, Nats Fail to Score.

Jones Yields 4-Run Lead; Goslin Victim of Freak Play.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH
(Sports Editor of The Post)

THE Browns won another ball game from the Nats yesterday after 12 innings of toil. The score was 6 to 4.

Bucky Harris himself gave the Browns a serious idea of winning the game in the twelfth when he muffed Lu Blue's lazy pop fly back on the grass to start the inning. That followed a sacrifice by O'Rourke, a double by Schang, and a single by Blaeholder which made matters conclusive.

The flare-up in the twelfth interrupted a remarkable shift of relief pitching by Fred Marberry and Bobby Burke, who had held the Browns hitless for the game, and the Nats had scored two runs to tie the score in the seventh. Sam Jones had yielded the Browns four runs in the earlier innings.

Defeat for the Nats in the twelfth followed humiliation in the eighth when, with the score tied, the Nats bled full and none out, the Nats acted nothing from the situation, inasmuch as Pinch Hitter Muddy Ruel hit to Pinch Blaeholder, who threw Schang for a forecourt, Schang throwing Ruel out at first for a double play. Blaeholder was a sort of hero. He entered the game with the bases full in the eighth and allowed one hit thereafter.

The Nats were the victims of a panic among the umpirical trio in the seventh inning, although on that occasion they managed to score two runs, which tied the game. The Nats were on first when Reeves sent a fly to Schulte, who dropped the ball after catching it momentarily.

There was no signal from the umpires that the ball was caught and the Nats dashed to second and was called safe. The Browns protested to Umpire-in-Chief Barry and he ruled that Schulte had made the catch. Goslin, who had been tagged at second, was declared out, completing a double play.

Manager Harris did not protest the game, although there appeared to be a laxity of duty by the umpires in not making a decision on the catch, which caused Goslin to gallop into a double play at second.

Six pitchers found their way into the game before it was over. The Nats gained a tie with the Browns in this respect. Both used three. Sam Jones pitched the first four innings, and was relieved in the sixth for a pinch-hitter after allowing four runs. Marberry held the Browns hitless in the seventh and eighth, and Ruel held them hitless until the twelfth.

Johnny Ogdan was the choice of Manager Harris for the ninth, and a known reason he was lifted in the sixth, although Jones runs in the first and second innings were the total damage of his delivery. Dick Coffman, a former National, followed him to the mound, and after yielding the tying two runs in the eighth, he was relieved by Blaeholder, who negotiated a double play.

Despite two double plays, the Browns scored two runs in the first two innings. Kress singled, Blue doubled and O'Rourke hit a home run. The Nats scored in the second. The Nats had taken the lead in the first, when Barnes and his Americans, the Browns' teammates, believed that they should give an excellent account of themselves.

If De Stefani, whom the professors at his university kept from defending the honor of his country against the Czechoslovakians, was in the line, he would have been a pinch-hitter for the Nats.

The question of whether Goslin, who had not represented Italy in the singles until the first match against Czechoslovakia, on Saturday, when he lost to Kreluz, would be able to defeat Macnauer was not decided until the match was well under way.

St. Louis, July 15 (A.P.).—Del Bissonette's stick work drove in two of the three runs which again slowed the Browns' league-leading pace, and the St. Louis nine lost the second game of the series to Brooklyn here today, 3 to 1.

St. Louis, July 15 (A.P.).—Del Bissonette's stick work drove in two of the three runs which again slowed the Browns' league-leading pace, and the St. Louis nine lost the second game of the series to Brooklyn here today, 3 to 1.

St. Louis, July 15 (A.P.).—Del Bissonette's stick work drove in two of the three runs which again slowed the Browns' league-leading pace, and the St. Louis nine lost the second game of the series to Brooklyn here today, 3 to 1.

St. Louis, July 15 (A.P.).—Del Bissonette's stick work drove in two of the three runs which again slowed the Browns' league-leading pace, and the St. Louis nine lost the second game of the series to Brooklyn here today, 3 to 1.

St. Louis, July 15 (A.P.).—Del Bissonette's stick work drove in two of the three runs which again slowed the Browns' league-leading pace, and the St. Louis nine lost the second game of the series to Brooklyn here today, 3 to 1.

St. Louis, July 15 (A.P.).—Del Bissonette's stick work drove in two of the three runs which again slowed the Browns' league-leading pace, and the St. Louis nine lost the second game of the series to Brooklyn here today, 3 to 1.

LOUGHRAN 6-5 CHOICE OVER LATZO

Lightheavy Champion Risks Title Tonight at Wilkes-Barre.

nia's hard coal region, where Tommy Loughran, the fighting Philadelphian, defends his light heavyweight championship again against Pete Latzo, rough and ready Scranton mauler, in a ten-round battle tomorrow night.

months' After beating Mike McQuighe here last October for title recognition in the welterweight division, Latzo made a claim by defeating Jimmy Slattery, of Buffalo; Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen, Wash., assassin; and Letzto.

The champion rules a bare 6 to 5 favorite, chiefly because Latzo never goes into the ring in the hard coal regions without plenty of financial support.

Two other fistie championships will go on the open market here during the week. The promoters can shake the weather jinx. The six-times postponed Top Morgan-Cannonball title Martin Juncos, lightweight titular and the best held, will defend Wednesday night if all goes well.

Twice delayed by rain, the Lozy Schwartz-Prisco Grande flyweight championship will be involved, however, only insofar as New York State is concerned. Schwartz's claim to the title is not recognized by the National Boxing Association, whose nominee is none other than that veteran mite, Frankie Genaro.

Post Classified Ads are on the job from morning until night.

Sixty Years of Worthy Service

Today!
Special Sale at $35

uits!

know it isn't September. We know it isn't the general election. At the height of the campaign, we go to find a sale of the most superb cool

there's no law nst it—so we call-ne of our biggest one of America's ed summer clothes
ies.

result is this anncement, offering 19 your choice of suits that will ne fancy of every good clothes.
dark—plain and pat-weights!

silk-finish fabric!
sizes—regular, large,
XL-LINED

TUNNEY-HEENEY FIGHT DUE ON RADIO THURSDAY

Veteran Announcers Will Send Battle in Detail by Station WRC.

ROXY TO GIVE PROGRAM

The radio account of the Gene Tunney-Tom Heenev championship bout at the Yankee Stadium, in New York, on the evening of July 26, will be available through sixteen radio stations, including WRC, Graham McNamee and Phillips Carlin, veteran sports announcers, will broadcast the story to the radio listeners.

Adelaide de Loca, contralto, will be one of the soloists in the program by Roxy and his gang at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Miss de Loca, born in New York City of Italian parentage, began her musical career as a soloist in her high school glee club. Later she decided to study voice as a career and earned the money to pay for her studies by working as a stenographer. Soon she began singing in churches in and around New York City. Her voice came to the attention of Mme. Schumann-Heink and the great singer became so enthusiastic over her voice that she offered to teach Miss de Loca her own repertoire.

The Gypsies will offer a variety of selections in their broadcast at 7:30 o'clock tonight through WRC. Interspersed between popular dance tunes and solo numbers by Justin Lawrie, tenor, will be heard the Waldteufel waltz "Violette," by the Gypsies' early success, "The Firefly" and the "Spanish Bolero," by Moszkowski.

The gold rush of '49 will again be depicted for listeners at 8:30 o'clock tonight, when the General Motors Family Party gathers before the microphone to broadcast a brief dramatization entitled "The Forty-niners." Appropriate musical selections, suggestive of the early days of American history, will be played throughout the program.

Schubert's "Marche Militaire" will be played as the opening number in the hour of Stumpe Music at 10 o'clock tonight. This number will be followed by the overture to Mendelssohn's "Fingals Cave," written after the composer's visit to the Hebrides, when he saw the great cave filled with organ-like stalactites and heard the rushing of the sea, which gave him his inspiration. Other numbers include Strauss' "Dragon Fly," a selection from Wagner's "Lohengrin," Dvorak's "The Merry Widow," and Herbert's "Yesterthoughts."

A concert from the plaza of the United States Capitol, played by Navy Band, will be broadcast from station WMAL at 7:30 o'clock tonight. "The Melody Girl" will be heard in a group of popular songs followed by a short broadcast known as "Musical Moments With Famous Pianists," in which the recording of Fritz Kreisler, as a pianist, will be featured.

Bel and Jones, the radio entertainers, and a short story on the French theater by Colby Harriman in his series of "Snapshots From the World's Theaters."

Warner Kennedy, pianist, will be heard for 15 minutes, preceding the regular dinner concert from station WHBF at 6:15 o'clock tonight.

Edith Reed, pianist, and the Honolulans are featured in the WFTF program this evening.

557 Airports Opened By Cities This Year

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—Five hundred and fifty-seven new airports have been developed by towns and cities in the United States in six months of 1928, the American Air Transport Association reports.

At the end of 1927 there were 1,600 regular classified fields, in addition to more than 4,000 airports owned by States, cities, commissions and similar organizations, on which emergency landings could be made. Most fields are municipally owned and operated, and improvements have been notable at airports situated along air mail routes.

Hand in hand with the marking of city names on prominent buildings as guides to fliers. One national organization already has marked 1,000 buildings.

Swiss Hotel School
Now Admits Women

Lausanne, Switzerland, July 15 (A.P.).—Women soon will be admitted to one of the most unique institutions in the world.

In 1904 J. Tschumi, father-in-law of Max Hotop-Tschumi, for many years manager of the Hotel National at Geneva, which is now the home of the League of Nations, founded at Lausanne "the professional school of the Swiss association of hotel proprietors," where the hotel business is learned from cellar to roof. Not only does it supply a big part of the personnel for the hundreds of Swiss hotels, but it sends its students abroad where eventually they fill big positions in the hotel business.

Now feminine pressure has forced the director to open the school to women.

Airbrakes on Planes Urged by Brequet

Paris, July 15 (A.P.).—Now come airbrakes for airplanes. Louis Brequet, airplane designer, thinks that a machine that would normally roll 375 yards after landing can be stopped in 50 if a reverse propeller and little wings create air resistance.

Uncle Ray's Corner

A Letter From England.

Tunbridge Wells, England. DEAR CORNER READER: I have arrived on the soil of old England and I am mighty glad to be here. The ocean voyage was pleasant, but it feels good to be on dry land once more.

After leaving the ship at Southampton I took an express train to London.

Columbia 1353, 1354, 1355

CARL W. DAUBER

RADIOSEA ELECTRIC

2320-24 Eighteenth St. N.W.

Uncle Ray

(Copyright, 1928.)

RADIO

MONDAY, JULY 16,
EASTERN STANDARD TIME.

NAA—Arlington.

(425 Meters, 699 Kilocycles.)

10:30 a. m.—3:45 and 10:05 p. m.—Weather report.

WRAC—Radio Corp. of America.

(409 Meters, 610 Kilocycles.)

6:45 a. m.—Tower Health exercises.

7:15 a. m.—Cherico.

7:30 a. m.—Cherico.

10 a. m.—NBC studio program.

10:15 a. m.—Radio Household Institute.

10:30 a. m.—NBC studio program.

10:45 a. m.—Worthwhile Garden Tools.

by Leonard Barron.

11 a. m.—Organ recital.

11:45 a. m.—Palais d'Or Orchestra.

12:45 p. m.—"Bridge for Beginners," by Mrs. John Muncie, Jr.

1 p. m.—Emory Dougherty and his Jazzy Lido Orchestra.

1:30 p. m.—Paradise Trio.

2:15 p. m.—NBC studio program.

2:30 p. m.—"The Wood Stars," by Don Hancock.

3:15 p. m.—Manhattan Trio.

3:45 p. m.—"A Hair Breadth Escape," by Samuel E. Wright.

4 p. m.—Bob Fallon's Orchestra.

4:30 p. m.—Jolly Bill and Jane.

5 p. m.—Waldorf-Astoria Orchestra.

5:35 p. m.—Motion picture guide.

5:58 p. m.—Baseball scores.

6 p. m.—Short Stories on Wealth," by Irving Fisher.

6:15 p. m.—National String Quartet.

8:30 p. m.—Rosy and His Gang.

9 p. m.—Oscar Shuster's Harp.

9:30 p. m.—Gypsies.

9:45 p. m.—General Motors family party.

9:50 p. m.—Pink Time-to-Retire Bors.

10 p. m.—Current Time.

10 p. m.—Sunder Music.

11 p. m.—U. S. weather forecast.

WMAL—Washington Radio Forum.

(241 Meters, 1,240 Kilocycles.)

12 p. m.—Brunswick Panophone record review.

6:55 p. m.—Thirt Club.

7:15 p. m.—Listening in on Jimmy and Jane.

7:30 p. m.—Correct time.

7:30 p. m.—Outdoor concert from the U. S. Capitol, played by U. S. Navy Band.

8 p. m.—The French Theater," by Colby Harriman.

8:15 p. m.—Musical moments with famous pianists.

8 p. m.—Bell and Jones, radio entertainers.

10 p. m.—"Snapshots From the World's Theaters—The French Theater," by Colby Harriman.

10:15 p. m.—Late news flashes.

WTF—The Fellowship Forum.

(202.6 Meters, 1,480 Kilocycles.)

7:30 p. m.—Thirteenth Engineers band of Fort Humphreys, Va.

8:30 p. m.—Jack and Jill.

8:45 p. m.—Edith Reed, pianist.

9 p. m.—Old King Tub, banjoist.

9:15 p. m.—Edith Reed, pianist.

9:30 p. m.—Woodville Brown, the South-eastern pianist.

9:45 p. m.—Virginia Buford, pianist.

10:15 p. m.—Little River Jack.

10:30 p. m.—The Foxes.

10:45 p. m.—The Fairfax Fiddlers.

WBUR—American Broadcasting Co.

(322 Meters, 930 Kilocycles.)

10 a. m.—Household talk.

10:30 a. m.—Victor half-hour.

11 a. m.—Lost and found.

11:30 a. m.—WBAI radio quartet.

9 p. m.—The Marylanders.

KDKA—Pittsburgh.

(315 Meters, 950 Kilocycles.)

8:30 p. m.—Roxy and His Gang.

8:45 p. m.—Tango Orchestra.

9 p. m.—Works of great composers.

WJVI—New York City.

(870 Meters, 810 Kilocycles.)

8 p. m.—Dominican Club hour.

8:30 p. m.—Newman Club hour.

WOB—Newark.

(422 Meters, 710 Kilocycles.)

8 p. m.—United Opera Company—"The Bohemian Girl."

9 p. m.—The Captivators.

10 p. m.—Orchestra.

10:30 p. m.—Wiching hour.

Call. Location. Length. Time.

KFI—Los Angeles. 45.3. 10:30-11:00.

KGO—Oakland. 38.4. 11:00-11:30.

KJW—Portland, Ore. 42.1. 10:30-11:00.

KMOX—St. Louis. 29.8. 7:00-7:30.

KOA—Denver. 52.5. 8:12-8:30.

KPO—San Francisco. 42.3. 10:30-11:00.

KSL—Salt Lake City. 30.2. 9:30-10:00.

KYW—Chicago. 52.9. 8:00-10:00.

WBZ—Springfield. 49.7. 8:00-1:00.

WCCO—Minneapolis. 45.2. 8:00-12:00.

WDAF—Tampa, Fla. 37.2. 8:00-12:00.

WERN—Chicago. 35.6. 9:00-1:00.

WGN—Chicago. 42.3. 8:00-12:00.

WGR—Buffalo. 30.2. 8:00-12:00.

WISN—Milwaukee. 37.5. 8:00-12:00.

WJOL—Jacksonville. 35.4. 8:00-12:00.

WJLA—Baltimore. 34.4. 8:00-12:00.

WJZ—New York City. 37.2. 8:00-12:00.

WMBF—Miami Beach. 38.4. 8:00-12:00.

WMLB—Memphis. 51.9. 8:00-12:00.

THE GUMPS

ELLA CINDERS—The Sixth Sense

GASOLINE ALLEY

MINUTE MOVIES

BOBBY THATCHER

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREAD WINNER

THE ARISTOCRAT OF THEM ALL

Sights for sore Eyes

By Ed Wheelan

By George Storm

By Bill Conselman and Charlie Plumb

Rachel Has Raised Dozens of 'Em

Do you think Mr Cummings will pass it? And if he does then what???

THE FINAL TEST!

THE NEXT MOVE IS TO FIND OUT WHAT HE LAUGHS AT— TELL ME WHAT YOU LAUGH AT AND I'LL TELL YOU WHAT YOU ARE! IN MEN, THE SIXTH SENSE IS THE SENSE OF HUMOR— IN WOMEN, THE SENSE OF RUMOR!

LAUGHTER IS THE LUBRICATOR THAT MAKES LIFE RUN SMOOTHLY— AND THE MAN I MARRY MUST BE MECHANIC ENOUGH TO APPRECIATE IT! WANT A MAN WHO CAN LAUGH WITH ME AND AT HIMSELF!

DO YOU THINK WE'D BETTER CALL THE DOCTOR? HE'S BEEN AT IT A LONG TIME.

WAIT, I'LL LOOK IN THE BOOK FIRST AND SEE WHAT THEY SAY TO DO.

HICKUPS, MISTA WALT? JES WAIT TILL I TIE UP A LITTLE SUGAR IN A CLOTH AN' YOU LET HIM SUCK THAT. AIN'T NOTHIN' BETTA.

ALL RIGHT, I'LL TRY ANYTHING.

IT WORKED LIKE A CHARM! RACHEL, THEY'VE STOPPED!

YOU DON'T HAVE TO GO LOOKIN' IN NO BOOK IF YOU WANT A STACHE, RACHEL.

BOTH DICK DARE AND PAUL VOGUE WILL APPEAR IN THIS CYCLOCAM PICTURE OF THE SPORT OF KINDS— ALSO HERBERT HONEY, NOW QUITE A YOUNG MAN, WILL MAKE HIS APPEARANCE AS A JOCKEY— I AM TAKING ENTIRE CHARGE OF THE PRODUCTION AND THE PICTURE WILL APPEAR IN THE NEXT WEEK FROM NEXT MONDAY!

AND WHILE I AM HERE, FRIENDS, I WANT TO SAY THAT MR WHEELAN HAS ASKED ME PARTICULARLY TO SAY "HELLO" TO HIS R C FROST OF ST LOUIS AND THANK HIM FOR HIS VERY NICE POSTAL TELLING OF HOW MUCH PLEASURE HE AND HIS FAMILY DERIVE FROM OUR PICTURES— WE ARE NOW SIGNING OFF— I THANK YOU!

FILM FOOLS! PULL SOME WISE CRACKS HERE TO MORROW.

WELL, I'D LIKE TO GET A PAIR OF THOSE SPECTACLES FOR PA' HE'S ALWAYS FORGETTING HIS!!

Sights for sore Eyes

By Ed Wheelan

By George Storm

By Bill Conselman and Charlie Plumb

Rachel Has Raised Dozens of 'Em

Do you think Mr Cummings will pass it? And if he does then what???

THE FINAL TEST!

THE NEXT MOVE IS TO FIND OUT WHAT HE LAUGHS AT— TELL ME WHAT YOU LAUGH AT AND

The Washington Post

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

RATES

For consecutive insertions

Cash, 10c per line per day

1 line, 10c per line per day

2 lines, 18c per line per day

3 lines, 25c per line per day

4 lines, 32c per line per day

5 lines, 39c per line per day

6 lines, 46c per line per day

7 lines, 53c per line per day

8 lines, 60c per line per day

9 lines, 67c per line per day

10 lines, 74c per line per day

11 lines, 81c per line per day

12 lines, 88c per line per day

13 lines, 95c per line per day

14 lines, 1.02 per line per day

15 lines, 1.09 per line per day

16 lines, 1.16 per line per day

17 lines, 1.23 per line per day

18 lines, 1.30 per line per day

19 lines, 1.37 per line per day

20 lines, 1.44 per line per day

21 lines, 1.51 per line per day

22 lines, 1.58 per line per day

23 lines, 1.65 per line per day

24 lines, 1.72 per line per day

25 lines, 1.79 per line per day

26 lines, 1.86 per line per day

27 lines, 1.93 per line per day

28 lines, 2.00 per line per day

29 lines, 2.07 per line per day

30 lines, 2.14 per line per day

31 lines, 2.21 per line per day

32 lines, 2.28 per line per day

33 lines, 2.35 per line per day

34 lines, 2.42 per line per day

35 lines, 2.49 per line per day

36 lines, 2.56 per line per day

37 lines, 2.63 per line per day

38 lines, 2.70 per line per day

39 lines, 2.77 per line per day

40 lines, 2.84 per line per day

41 lines, 2.91 per line per day

42 lines, 2.98 per line per day

43 lines, 3.05 per line per day

44 lines, 3.12 per line per day

45 lines, 3.19 per line per day

46 lines, 3.26 per line per day

47 lines, 3.33 per line per day

48 lines, 3.40 per line per day

49 lines, 3.47 per line per day

50 lines, 3.54 per line per day

51 lines, 3.61 per line per day

52 lines, 3.68 per line per day

53 lines, 3.75 per line per day

54 lines, 3.82 per line per day

55 lines, 3.89 per line per day

56 lines, 3.96 per line per day

57 lines, 4.03 per line per day

58 lines, 4.10 per line per day

59 lines, 4.17 per line per day

60 lines, 4.24 per line per day

61 lines, 4.31 per line per day

62 lines, 4.38 per line per day

63 lines, 4.45 per line per day

64 lines, 4.52 per line per day

65 lines, 4.59 per line per day

66 lines, 4.66 per line per day

67 lines, 4.73 per line per day

68 lines, 4.80 per line per day

69 lines, 4.87 per line per day

70 lines, 4.94 per line per day

71 lines, 5.01 per line per day

72 lines, 5.08 per line per day

73 lines, 5.15 per line per day

74 lines, 5.22 per line per day

75 lines, 5.29 per line per day

76 lines, 5.36 per line per day

77 lines, 5.43 per line per day

78 lines, 5.50 per line per day

79 lines, 5.57 per line per day

80 lines, 5.64 per line per day

81 lines, 5.71 per line per day

82 lines, 5.78 per line per day

83 lines, 5.85 per line per day

84 lines, 5.92 per line per day

85 lines, 5.99 per line per day

86 lines, 6.06 per line per day

87 lines, 6.13 per line per day

88 lines, 6.20 per line per day

89 lines, 6.27 per line per day

90 lines, 6.34 per line per day

91 lines, 6.41 per line per day

92 lines, 6.48 per line per day

93 lines, 6.55 per line per day

94 lines, 6.62 per line per day

95 lines, 6.69 per line per day

96 lines, 6.76 per line per day

97 lines, 6.83 per line per day

98 lines, 6.90 per line per day

99 lines, 6.97 per line per day

100 lines, 7.04 per line per day

101 lines, 7.11 per line per day

102 lines, 7.18 per line per day

103 lines, 7.25 per line per day

104 lines, 7.32 per line per day

105 lines, 7.39 per line per day

106 lines, 7.46 per line per day

107 lines, 7.53 per line per day

108 lines, 7.60 per line per day

109 lines, 7.67 per line per day

110 lines, 7.74 per line per day

111 lines, 7.81 per line per day

112 lines, 7.88 per line per day

113 lines, 7.95 per line per day

HELP WANTED—MALE

YOUNG MAN to make himself useful in

State and city offices. Address Box

620, Washington Post.

FLOOR MANAGER.

A young man of the highest integrity.

State and city offices. Address Box

620, Washington Post.

STENOGRAPHER IN

MOUNTAIN CAMP

until September 8. Give phone, kind of shorthand, speed at dictation, transcribing, typing, references, salary in addition to board.

BOX 8, COMOS CO., NEW YORK CITY.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES

GO to Bureau Exchange, sec. 1897, for recruitment in any capacity, public or private. M. 2808.

OFFICE and other help furnished; no charge to employer. National Personnel Service

Bureau, 533 Bond Bldg., Main 5821.

RELIABLE help of all kinds furnished. Benary Employment Agency, 710 15th St.

N.W., North 10251.

KUPPER'S EXCHANGE has first-class coachmen, general workers, repair men, invested in the office. Sec. 3551.

BOYD'S Office Help and general workmen open weekly. 1338 G St. N.W.

SITUATIONS—FEMALE

COLORED cook and general housework;

reliable; city references. North 9345.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AJAX-NASH, 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition. $300. Fred N. Windridge, Rosslyn, Va. 1920.

BUICK, 1926, master 6 sedan; new Duo-point motor; reconditioned. $1000—Buick

1926, master 6 sedan; good condition

throughout. $350. Fred N. Windridge,

Roslyn, Va. 1920.

BUICK, 1924, master 6 sedan; new paint and tires; reconditioned. $1000—Buick

1924, master 6 sedan; good condition

throughout. $350. Fred N. Windridge,

Roslyn, Va. 1920.

CADILLAC-63 touring and sedan, 314

imp. sedan, 1924, 4-door sedan; good condition; reconditioned and guaranteed; on tax. $1138 Conn. ave. N.W.; Decatur 3901.

CHANDLER 7-pass. sedan, 1925, a good clean car, in fine condition, to be sold quickly; on easy terms. The Washington

Cadillac Co., 1138 Conn. ave. N.W.; Decatur

3901.

CHEVROLET touring, 1920, 712 E St. N.W.

Lincoln 840.

CHEVROLET 4-door sedan; excellent condition; 1920, 712 E St. N.W.; Lincoln 840.

CHEVROLET 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good condition; 1925, 4-door sedan; good con-

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

AUTOMOB

FEDERAL BUILDING PROGRAM EXPECTED TO BE SPEEDED UP

Treasury Board of Architects Will Convene Here Today to Discuss Plans.

THREE BIG STRUCTURES WAIT ON THEIR ACTION

Estimates Are to Be Completed as Basis for Further Moves by Congress.

Leading architects from all parts of the country, who comprise the membership of the Treasury Department Board of Architectural Consultants, will meet today to consider further plans for the construction of new Federal buildings and parkways under the Federal building program in the triangle area south of Pennsylvania avenue.

Members of the board will take up the problem of developing plans for the next building to be placed in the program, so that a basis of estimates to be submitted to Congress at its next session can be laid.

During the last session of Congress that body authorized the Treasury Department to proceed with such plans as it deemed appropriate and may be presented to Congress as to their probable cost.

Structures on List.

New buildings to house the Department of Labor, Department of Justice, Interstate Commerce Commission and incidental government activities are in line for consideration by the architectural commission today.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Schumacher, in charge of the public building program, said that the city at present is expected to return in time to consult with the architects during their deliberations.

The Treasury Department not only has the authority to obtain the professional services of private architects in connection with the building program, but also has sufficient appropriations to pay for their services.

Program to Be Speeded.

As a result of the meeting which begins today, Government officials are hoping that some definite steps will be taken which will speed up the pushing of the Federal building program.

The board of consultant architects includes representatives of various bodies concerned in the planning of Washington and its development and is composed of Edward T. Bennett, of Chicago, chairman; Louis A. Simon, of New York; Arthur Brown, Jr., of San Francisco; William A. Delano, of New York; and Milton B. Medary, of Philadelphia, member of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, and Louis A. Simon, of the Treasury Department.

Detective Brings Man Back in $700 Theft

Ray Clifton Anderson, 28 years old, 1113 Potomac avenue southeast, was returned to Washington last night from Camden, N. J., where he had been grand larceny in connection with the theft of $700 from the Dupont Laundry on July 12.

Anderson was a salesman for the laundry company, and is alleged to have gone there after the officers had closed and to have taken the money from the safe. When arrested in Camden Saturday night $600 was recovered, the police found a telephone number in the complaint. Headquarters Detective R. H. Mansfield brought Anderson back to Washington.

Telephone Service Open to Switzerland

Trans-Atlantic telephone service between the United States and Switzerland, the ninth European country to be connected by telephone with American cities, has been established and will be available on a telephone users of the District of Columbia and other parts of the country Wednesday, according to a statement issued yesterday by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.

The hours of service will include the period from 5:30 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, eastern standard time, which corresponds to 10:30 a. m. to 2 a. m. in Switzerland.

Officers Are Elected By Filipino Club

D. M. Sugatan last night was elected president of the Filipino Club of Washington at the semiannual elections held at the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building.

Other officers elected were vice president, Macario Balco, corresponding secretary, Macario Balco, recording secretary, Macario Balco, and treasurer, Anacleto Madarang, sergeant at arms, Andy Flores, house manager, Catalino Bastor and critic, G. M. Urali. Patrick Gallagher, chairman of the committee, Free Press addressed the more than 50 members present at the meeting.

Pickpocket Gets Billfold With $102

James LaFontaine, of 2541 Thirteenth street northwest, reported to police yesterday that his billfold containing $102 had been taken from his pocket while he was boarding a street car at Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

LaFontaine said while he was boarding the car he felt some one brush past him and take his pocket. He furnished police with a detailed description of the man whom he suspected as the pickpocket.

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS

To Questions on Magazine Page

- Rosa Bonheur painted "The Horse Fair."
- The Yosemite Valley is in California.
- Thomas Hood, famous English poet, 1798 to 1863, wrote "The Bridge of Sighs" and "The Song of the Shirt."
- Christian is the hero of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress."
- Gen. Alvaro Obregon was recently elected President of Mexico.
- The Koran is the sacred book of the Mohammedans.
- Emmeline Pankhurst was leader of the militant English suffragettes.
- Capt. Ritter-Larson and Lieut. Lutetown Holm are liars connected with the rescue of the Noble expedition.
- Los Angeles is the largest city in the United States in area.
- Devil's Island is a French penal colony in French Guiana.

(Copyright, 1928.)

OFFICERS AT FORT HOYLE REVIEW

CITIZEN SOLDIERS SERVICED IN CAMP

Field Exercises Held at Fort Eustis, Va., in Grove Before Post's Chapel.

FIVE PASTORS SERVE FORT MONROE SOLDIERS

Particular Emphasis Laid on Attendance—Music by Army Band.

Religious services comprised the main activity in the Citizens Military Training camp and Reserve officers' camp, near Washington yesterday.

A Protestant field service was held at Fort Eustis, Va., yesterday morning in the grove in front of the post chapel. Col. Edmund P. Easterbrook, chief of chaplains, delivered the principal address. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Fifty-second Coast Artillery Band, under direction of Warrent Officer, The Lipartiti.

A double quartet from Newport News sang several selections and the junior choir of the post also took part.

All Attend One Service.

Particular emphasis upon attendance at chapel was laid at Fort Monroe, Va.

Five reserve chaplains are assisting the post chaplain, Capt. James McBrine, in the service.

The regular post services were held by Chaplain McBride in the historic post chapel near the famous live oak, where Jefferson Davis president of the Confederacy was held in high treason.

Chaplains on Duty.

The Rev. W. A. McGill, pastor of the St. Mary's of the Sea Chapel at Old Point Comfort, held services for members of Catholic faith.

Church services also were held at Fort Myer, Va., and at Fort Humphreys, Va., and at other nearby camps.

KELLOGG STILL WAITS ANSWERS TO NOTE

CONCLUDED FROM PAGE 1

new stipulations, and to take note of the interpretations Secretary Kellogg had given the new treaty in his note of June 23 with a view of satisfying the various observations which had been formulated from the French point of view.

Cleared by Interpretations.

Giving a resume of these interpretations, M. Briand continued:

"The note to the declaration given by the preamble and thanks more over to the interpretations given to the treaty, the government of the republic congratulates itself that the new convention is compatible with the obligations of existing treaties."

"In this situation and under these circumstances the government of the republic is happy to be able to declare to the government of the United States that it is now entirely disposed to sign the treaty as proposed by the letter of your excellency of June 23, 1928."

"At the moment of signing its contribution to the realization of the long matured project, all the moral and political gains which have been gained from the beginning, the government of the republic desires to render homage to the generous spirit in which the treaty was signed."

Manuel C. Teiler, Mexican Ambassador at Washington, and other Mexican government officials and army men will accompany the body to the railroad station.

New York City will be represented by Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee and other city officials.

Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey have been invited to take part. Consular representatives of other nations in New York have been invited to attend the funeral ceremony.

Gen. Teiler had sent word to the commanding officer of the Eight Corps area that the train bearing Capt. Carranza's body was due to pass through San Antonio, Tex., about 5 p. m. Friday. He requested that suitable military ceremonies be held there and also at Laredo, Texas, where a Mexican escort will meet the train and accompany the body across the border and to the Mexican capital.

While officials were arranging the funeral, today, crowds of men and women filed through the funeral parlors to pay tribute to the memory of the Mexican good-will filer.

The body will be taken on the train at Laredo and transported with full military escort to the middle of the International Bridge, where it will be received by a special commission to be appointed by the Mexican government. The body will then be conducted to a train on the Mexican side of the border.

Friday His "Lucky Day."

Mexico City, July 15 (A.P.)—It was his lucky day and Friday as his lucky day that led him to choose last Thursday for the start of his fatal attempt to reach Mexico City in his non-stop flight from New York, according to Helodoro Cardenas, a close friend of the late aviator.

Cardenas said that Capt. Carranza always refused to start an important flight on a day other than Thursday or Friday, fearing that if he defied his superstition his flight would end in failure.

The superstition, Cardenas believes, prompted the Mexican ace to hop off on Thursday so that he might reach Mexico City on Friday the 15th.

General's Rank Withdrawn.

The war department reconsidered its order bestowing posthumously the grade of general of division upon Capt. Emilio Carranza, who was killed in an attempt to fly from New York to Mexico City.

The announcement was given the newspapers by the department yesterday but later differences of opinion developed in the department itself, and it was stated today that it now was inadvisable to raise officially the flying ace to the highest rank in the army.

On the other hand, it was said that the national funeral honors which will be accorded Capt. Carranza would be all that any general could have. The body will rest in state in the war department after its arrival in Mexico City for a day or more. Then with President Calles, Secretary of War Amaro and other high officials and members of the cabinet following, there will be a funeral procession to Mexico's "field of illustrious dead," where the body will be buried with the highest solemnities.

Guatemala Flier to Train Here.

Authorization of Maj. Oscar Morales Lopez, of the Guatemalan army, for a six-month training period with the Third Attack Group of the Army Air Corps at Fort Crockett, Tex., was announced yesterday by Secretary of War Dwight Davis. Maj. Lopez's training will be without expense to the United States and will fulfill a request of the Guatemalan government.

Guatemala Flier to Train Here.

Authorization of Maj. Oscar Morales Lopez, of the Guatemalan army, for a six-month training period with the Third Attack Group of the Army Air Corps at Fort Crockett, Tex., was announced yesterday by Secretary of War Dwight Davis. Maj. Lopez's training will be without expense to the United States and will fulfill a request of the Guatemalan government.

Guatemala Flier to Train Here.

Authorization of Maj. Oscar Morales Lopez, of the Guatemalan army, for a six-month training period with the Third Attack Group of the Army Air Corps at Fort Crockett, Tex., was announced yesterday by Secretary of War Dwight Davis. Maj. Lopez's training will be without expense to the United States and will fulfill a request of the Guatemalan government.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS SERVICED IN CAMP

ARMY OLD GUIDES MAN FOR LONG WAR

Field Exercises Held at Fort Eustis, Va., in Grove Before Post's Chapel.

FIVE PASTORS SERVE FORT MONROE SOLDIERS

Particular Emphasis Laid on Attendance—Music by Army Band.

Religious services comprised the main activity in the Citizens Military Training camp and Reserve officers' camp, near Washington yesterday.

A Protestant field service was held at Fort Eustis, Va., yesterday morning in the grove in front of the post chapel. Col. Edmund P. Easterbrook, chief of chaplains, delivered the principal address. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Fifty-second Coast Artillery Band, under direction of Warrent Officer, The Lipartiti.

A double quartet from Newport News sang several selections and the junior choir of the post also took part.

All Attend One Service.

Particular emphasis upon attendance at chapel was laid at Fort Monroe, Va.

Five reserve chaplains are assisting the post chaplain, Capt. James McBrine, in the service.

The regular post services were held by Chaplain McBride in the historic post chapel near the famous live oak, where Jefferson Davis president of the Confederacy was held in high treason.

Chaplains on Duty.

The Rev. W. A. McGill, pastor of the St. Mary's of the Sea Chapel at Old Point Comfort, held services for members of Catholic faith.

Church services also were held at Fort Myer, Va., and at Fort Humphreys, Va., and at other nearby camps.

KELLOGG STILL WAITS ANSWERS TO NOTE

CONCLUDED FROM PAGE 1

new stipulations, and to take note of the interpretations Secretary Kellogg had given the new treaty in his note of June 23 with a view of satisfying the various observations which had been formulated from the French point of view.

Cleared by Interpretations.

Giving a resume of these interpretations, M. Briand continued:

"The note to the declaration given by the preamble and thanks more over to the interpretations given to the treaty, the government of the republic congratulates itself that the new convention is compatible with the obligations of existing treaties."

"In this situation and under these circumstances the government of the republic is happy to be able to declare to the government of the United States that it is now entirely disposed to sign the treaty as proposed by the letter of your excellency of June 23, 1928."

"At the moment of signing its contribution to the realization of the long matured project, all the moral and political gains which have been gained from the beginning, the government of the republic desires to render homage to the generous spirit in which the treaty was signed."

Manuel C. Teiler, Mexican Ambassador at Washington, and other Mexican government officials and army men will accompany the body to the railroad station.

New York City will be represented by Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee and other city officials.

Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey have been invited to take part. Consular representatives of other nations in New York have been invited to attend the funeral ceremony.

Gen. Teiler had sent word to the commanding officer of the Eight Corps area that the train bearing Capt. Carranza's body was due to pass through San Antonio, Tex., about 5 p. m. Friday. He requested that suitable military ceremonies be held there and also at Laredo, Texas, where a Mexican escort will meet the train and accompany the body across the border and to the Mexican capital.

While officials were arranging the funeral, today, crowds of men and women filed through the funeral parlors to pay tribute to the memory of the Mexican good-will filer.

The body will be taken on the train at Laredo and transported with full military escort to the middle of the International Bridge, where it will be received by a special commission to be appointed by the Mexican government. The body will then be conducted to a train on the Mexican side of the border.

Friday His "Lucky Day."

Mexico City, July 15 (A.P.)—It was his lucky day and Friday as his lucky day that led him to choose last Thursday for the start of his fatal attempt to reach Mexico City in his non-stop flight from New York, according to Helodoro Cardenas, a close friend of the late aviator.

Cardenas said that Capt. Carranza always refused to start an important flight on a day other than Thursday or Friday, fearing that if he defied his superstition his flight would end in failure.

The superstition, Cardenas believes, prompted the Mexican ace to hop off on Thursday so that he might reach Mexico City on Friday the 15th.

General's Rank Withdrawn.

The war department reconsidered its order bestowing posthumously the grade of general of division upon Capt. Emilio Carranza, who was killed in an attempt to fly from New York to Mexico City.

The announcement was given the newspapers by the department yesterday but later differences of opinion developed in the department itself, and it was stated today that it now was inadvisable to raise officially the flying ace to the highest rank in the army.

On the other hand, it was said that the national funeral honors which will be accorded Capt. Carranza would be all that any general could have. The body will rest in state in the war department after its arrival in Mexico City for a day or more. Then with President Calles, Secretary of War Amaro and other high officials and members of the cabinet following, there will be a funeral procession to Mexico's "field of illustrious dead," where the body will be buried with the highest solemnities.

Guatemala Flier to Train Here.

Authorization of Maj. Oscar Morales Lopez, of the Guatemalan army, for a six-month training period with the Third Attack Group of the Army Air Corps at Fort Crockett, Tex., was announced yesterday by Secretary of War Dwight Davis. Maj. Lopez's training will be without expense to the United States and will fulfill a request of the Guatemalan government.

Guatemala Flier to Train Here.

Authorization of Maj. Oscar Morales Lopez, of the Guatemalan army, for a six-month training period with the Third Attack Group of the Army Air Corps at Fort Crockett, Tex., was announced yesterday by Secretary of War Dwight Davis. Maj. Lopez's training will be without expense to the United States and will fulfill a request of the Guatemalan government.

Guatemala Flier to Train Here.

Authorization of Maj. Oscar Morales Lopez, of the Guatemalan army, for a six-month training period with the Third Attack Group of the Army Air Corps at Fort Crockett, Tex., was announced yesterday by Secretary of War Dwight Davis. Maj. Lopez's training will be without expense to the United States and will fulfill a request of the Guatemalan government.

AT THE THEATERS

PALACE

Hooley, boys! (And, in this instance, girls, too.) It's the United States Marines!

So So-Jin, the Chinese military revolutionist, who had murdered the governor of the Province of Sanking, planned the crime on a little American morning star occupying in China, permitted Crystal Malone to escape from the chopping block, where her head was about to be snipped off by a wicked looking snickerer, and rush to the cell from which Don Davis, the inspired newspaper reporter who had brought rescue from far places in a matter of an hour or so, was immediately released. They were in each others arms before they were separated by the person married by Sanking's leading missionary as yesterday afternoon's first audience clanked their way to the exits of Loew's Palace with cheers still on their lips!

Such is the thrill sequence of "Telling the World," screen feature for the current week, which through the remainder of its length is comedy of the most contagious but inconsequential nature. It is a comedy of the type which William Haines was going to go serious and be more authentic and less the imbecile in this one. But the information furnished to be completely phony.

If anything, he is crazier than ever. But he gets away with it. I mean both in the play and with the custom of the law. In the play, he is a comedian—even when they knew that the city editor would have heaved him down the elevator shaft if he had ever pulled off a job like this. But he secured him the one he has to have if there is to be a picture!

His first assignment was to interview his father as to why he had been discharged and kicked out of the family manse. His next was a fake murder that turned out to be real, and finally, when he was ready to go, he transferred himself to China and saves the day for the chorus and dear old Yale by taking a Chinese out on a trip to the States.

To most of us it will always be a mystery where Mr. Haines gets all his pep, although one look at Anita Page, opposite him in this flippity thing, may explain much. Others who contribute to the conspicuously spotty fabric of a film play that combines comedy and real news are William Haines, Percy, William V. Wong, Bert Roach, Polly Moran, the late Frank Currier, and Matthew Betz.

On the stage, "Weezy Eddy's Vacation Days" revues has its basis in the comedy of real news. It is a movement by R. H. Burnside, in which Scanlon, Dennis Brothers and Scanlon offer the same surprise that formerly was the surprise of the "Weezy Eddy's Vacation Days" revues. It is a blonde singer whose habit seems to be stopping shoes; Moss and Frye, sure-fire comics; Weezy Eddy and his partner, who are a comedy duo.

It should be tempted to list first among the year's pulchritudinous ensembles, are the aces.

Secretary Kellogg's name is linked with another diplomatic victory of the United States. It is a victory to resume diplomatic relations and attempt a friendly settlement of the powder-laden dispute over Tacna and Arica.

Against this impressive array on the side of peace the Balkans cast a dark shadow. Assassination has been added to the general disturbance of the Balkans. When Gen. Protogerov, head of the Macedonian Revolutionary Committee, was shot down in the streets of Sofia, he refused to die without a good relation between Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, officials expected some kind of reprisal in Yugoslavia and they were not disappointed.

M. Lazitch, head of the Yugoslav State police and selected to be minister of the interior in the new government, never far below the horizon, is again in the center of the Macedonian revolutionary movement. He is a Macedonian patriot, but escaped with a severe head wound.

Political Turmoil Reported.

Coupled with the growing strength of the Croatian independence movement, the political situation affecting Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and the fiery Macedonian revolutionary element, the Balkan situation has rarely given less promise of peace.

Austro-Italian peace overtures received a violent check when Rome announced that the Italian government had refused to accept the Austrian frontier with an inscription and speeches which revived the flames of the old resentment against the Premier Mussolini.

Leaders of the South Tyrolean movement were aroused to a dangerous pitch by the Italian government's refusal to accept the Austrian frontier with an inscription and speeches which revived the flames of the old resentment against the Premier Mussolini.

A third source of conflict reappeared on the scene when Poland presented to the League of Nations the text of Lithuania's latest proposition for the settlement of the Lithuanian-Lithuanian frontier. Lithuania has demanded that the Vilna area be declared "disputed territory" and that Poland pay an indemnity of several million dollars for damages suffered in the Polish occupation of the area.

Warsaw government says these demands make peace between the two countries impossible.

Manchurian Peace in Peril.

On the other side of the world the danger of armed conflict in Manchuria, the result of the Japanese ultimatum in sight. Nationalist China's nervous assumption of power at Nanking is taking an increasingly vigorous turn.

The question of the new Chinese government will wait before demanding that Japan cease her domination of Manchuria. The Japanese government has replied by saying that conditions in Manchuria must remain as they are.

The Nanking government is preparing to ask all nations having commercial treaties with China to prepare for the negotiation of new agreements in which China is treated as an equal.

A conference in Buenos Aires between representatives of Bolivia and Paraguay for the settlement of the boundary between these two countries has ended in disagreement. The situation holds no immediate danger and negotiations will be continued through ordinary diplomatic channels.

Revolt in Spain Reported.

Reports of revolutionary disorders in Spain, apparently more authentic than the more similar reports which have been officially denied in messages from Madrid. Dispatches from points on the Spanish border said that large numbers of revolutionary fighters were imprisoned in Barcelona.

Clashes and disputes between Greek Liberals and Royalists continue apace while Premier Venizelos attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

The French occupation of the Rhineland promises to become a sore point before autumn with a renewed demand by the Muller cabinet for an early withdrawal. Premier Laval attempts to smooth the waters and launch his new cabinet.

U. S. FIGHT TO HALT

HIGHER COAL RATES MAY BEGIN TODAY

Rail Freight Charges on New River Product Held Too High.

GOVERNMENT MAY ASK I. C. C. TO REOPEN CASE

Trade Board to Plan Action in Matter at Meeting This Morning.

The United States Government is expected to fire the opening gun today in a fight to forestall a higher freight rate on soft coal coming into Washington from the New River fields of Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky.

It is expected that an attorney for one of the Government bureaus will appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission and ask that the proposed new rate be suspended and the case reopened. Local Government departments and institutions use a large proportion of the soft coal brought here from the New River fields.

The freight rate on most of the coal coming from the New River region to Washington has been $2.84 a ton. The three railroad companies that haul the coal—the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Norfolk & Western and the Virginian—announced that, beginning August 10, the rate will be $3.13, an increase of 29 cents.

Local producers in the New River section say that this 29-cent increase will drive them away from the Washington market, and leave the city at the mercy of the higher rates. They say they will be free to raise the price on their own product.

May Increase Gas Rates.

At a conference between the New River producers and local business leaders last week, it was stated that the higher freight rate might be reflected in gas rates and in apartment house rentals.

The auxiliary attractions are a new issue of the Kinograph, a two-reel silent comedy, "The Big Game," and "Weezy Eddy's Vacation Days," a comedy by R. H. Burnside, in which Scanlon, Dennis Brothers and Scanlon offer the same surprise that formerly was the surprise of the "Weezy Eddy's Vacation Days" revues.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.

It is all about two married men, a chorus girl and her admirer, two wives and a rancher in-law. Wife and mother are both in the picture. It is a boudoir cap and an embroidered evening wrap and such girls as are epidemic in the plot wear no skirts, so they are not in the picture.